THOMAS A. YAWKEY

President

Pictured on the opposite page, with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Yawkey, are six great Red Sox players whose playing days in Red Sox uniforms bridge the 40 years that Tom Yawkey has owned the Red Sox from 1933 through 1972 . . . Ted Williams, 1939-1960; Dom DiMaggio, 1940-1953; Johnny Pesky, 1942-1952; Frank Malzone, 1955-1965; Carl Yastrzemski, 1961-etc.; Carlton Fisk, 1972-etc. The occasion was a party on August 26, 1972 for Mr. Yawkey celebrating his 40 years of Red Sox ownership.

Only Philip K. Wrigley, who took over the leadership of the Chicago Cubs in 1934, comes close to the years of service that Tom Yawkey has given to baseball, and Tom's interest in the Red Sox and the game of baseball is even more intense as he enters his 41st year of ownership.

When the Red Sox lost the American League Eastern Division title by an eyelash to the Detroit Tigers in the final series of the 1972 season, he was in Tiger Stadium making his first road trip of many years with his club. That finish, one half game off the top, was very disappointing but not crushing, because the very next morning Tom Yawkey began talking about 1973 prospects.

Looking back, he marveled at the hectic month of September as the Red Sox, playing the best baseball in either league from July 1 on, came charging on desperately trying to overcome an early season slump, injuries to key personnel in critical situations, and still lost by only one-half game.

Looking ahead on that morning, he rewarded manager Eddie Kasko with a new two year contract and talked about rookie catcher Carlton "Pudge" Fisk, the first unanimous American League "Rookie of the Year", about rookie outfielder Dwight Evans and his performance in September, about young pitchers Lynn McGlothen and John Curtis and their potential, about Carl Yastrzemski's hitting in September, reminiscent of 1967, about Luis Tiant's remarkable comeback as the best pitcher in the league in the final three months of the season, about the pitching of Marty Pattin after mid-June, and the other players who make the Red Sox outlook very bright for 1973.

This, of course, has been the hallmark of Mr. Yawkey's ownership for the past 40 years — looking forward to what is best for baseball, generally, and what is best for the Red Sox in particular.

Tom Yawkey was born in Detroit in February, 1903. As a youngster he associated with Ty Cobb, Sam Crawford and other stars of the Detroit Tigers of the day, members of the club owned by Tom's uncle and foster-father, William Hoover Yawkey.

He played baseball himself at Irving School and at Yale University, as a student at the Sheffield Scientific School. Hall of Famer, Eddie Collins, also an Irving School alumnus, became a close friend and out of that association came Tom Yawkey's decision to buy the floundering Boston Red Sox franchise, provided that Collins join him as general manager. That was February, 1933, right after his 30th birthday.

Red Sox history from that point went through several stages . . . in the 30's, such famous names as Joe Cronin, Jimmy Foxx and Lefty Grove were purchased from other clubs and the Red Sox started to move up . . . in the late 30's and through the 40's, came the era of Ted Williams, Johnny Pesky, Dom DiMaggio, Bobby Doerr and others, with a pennant to show in 1946, and down-to-the wire finishes in second place in 1948 and 1949 . . . in the 50's the club invested heavily in youngsters, trying to find the right cast to surround Ted Williams, but the results were disappointing . . . then despite second division finishes in the early 60's, behind the scenes a reorganization was carried on, which resulted first in the "Impossible Dream" pennant of 1967, contending positions in the next four years, last year's one half game loss and today's bright outlook for the future.

Although baseball has been his prime interest through the years, equally important to Tom Yawkey has been his devotion to the Jimmy Fund, the popular name of the Children's Cancer Research Foundation of Boston, along with his continuing interest in bird and wildlife conservation. Also, it's because of his insistence that Fenway Park, despite being one of the oldest and smallest ballparks in the nation, is still a showplace for baseball and the most exciting park in the country, with an average of one million seven hundred thousand fans attending Red Sox games for the past six years, tops in the American League.

The 40 years of Tom Yawkey's ownership have been dramatic and exciting, but as he looks at it . . . "The best is yet to come!!!" . . . a world's championship.

O'CONNELL

Richard H. O'Connell

Executive Vice-President-General Manager

There is a very direct correlation between the fact that Dick O'Connell took overall charge of the Red Sox before the 1966 season, and a pennant followed in 1967, contending clubs ever since and the Red Sox leading the American League in total and average attendance for the past six years.

Now in his 27th year as a member of the Red Sox organization, Dick learned his lessons well as he climbed the organization ladder . . . business manager of the Lynn Red Sox in 1946 . . . home secretary of the Red Sox in 1949 . . . director of park operations in 1951 . . . executive vice-president of business operations in 1960 . . . and general manager in 1965. The fact that he was familiar with every phase of major league baseball operation was recognized by Tom Yawkey when he put him in charge

Although the Red Sox did not make a major off season trade this winter, since 1965 Dick has been credited with some of the most astute trades made in baseball. There was the mid-season acquisition of Gary Bell, Jerry Adair and Elston Howard which helped to assure the 1967 pennant and made O'Connell the major league executive of the year. More recently, the deals for Ray Culp, Sonny Siebert, Luis Aparicio, Doug Griffin, Marty Pattin and Tommy Harper have kept the Red Sox in a contending position. Although last year's Danny Cater for Sparky Lyle trade did not pay the expected dividends in 1972, the extra man, shortstop Mario Guerrero who has a strong chance to make the Red Sox in 1973, may swing the balance yet.

Dick was born in Winthrop, Mass. on September 19, 1914. He earned both a Bachelor's and Master's degrees from Boston College, where he played both football and baseball. Later he was a prep school teacher-coach before World War II Navy service as an intelligence officer in the Pacific theater. He is married, with three children, and resides in Belmont, Mass.

Haywood C. Sullivan

Vice-President, Player Personnel

"Sully" enters his eighth season as player personnel director in 1973, after rejoining the Red Sox in that capacity in November, 1965, and he shares in the credit for many of the trades of recent years.

He originally signed with the Red Sox off the campus of Florida University in 1952 as a very promising catcher. He was also Florida's starting quarterback and considered an outstanding pro football prospect. Some of the passing records he set for the Gators have only recently been broken. Previously he had starred in both football and baseball at Dothan, Alabama High School.

Unfortunately his baseball playing career was cut short because of a slipped disc incurred with the Red Sox in 1958, and he eventually stopped playing regularly with Kansas City in 1963. He managed Birmingham in the Athletics farm system in 1964, started with Vancouver in 1965 before being promoted in mid-season to take over the major league team. In the fall, Charles O. Finley released him from his contract to accept the front office position with the Red Sox.

He was born in Donalsonville, Georgia on December 15, 1930 and now makes his home with his wife and three children in Canton, Mass.

John P. Alevizos

Vice President — Administration

John moves into his fourth season as administrator and director of park operations after a successful career as Professor of Marketing at Boston University and long experience as a management consultant and real estate developer.

He was the owner and general manager of the Manchester Yankees of the Eastern League prior to coming with the Red Sox. He has been the prime mover in organizing and establishing the Red Sox minor league complex in Winter Haven, one of the finest of its kind in Florida, and responsible for the many innovations and improvements at Fenway Park.

Prior to graduating from Boston University, he played briefly in the St. Louis Cardinals farm system and now resides with his wife and three children in Waban, Mass.

KASKO, LENHARDT, CAMILLI, STANGE, POPOWSKI,

The Manager and Coaches

THE MANAGER

KASKO

Edward Michael (Eddie)

Born: June 27, 1931, Linden, N. J. Ht.: 6'; Wt. 185 lbs. Brown eyes, Brown hair. Bats and Throws: Right. Home, Richmond, Va. Married Catherine Bache, February 15, 1958. Children: Michael 8/10/59, James 4/30/63. Acquired by Red Sox, April 3, 1966 for Felix Mantilla from Houston.

Eddie earned a new two year contract by directing the Red Sox to the final series of the year before losing the American League East division title by one-half a game. All this was accomplished despite a bad start and several injuries to key players. In his three years at the helm, the club has finished third twice and second by an eyelash, and Eddie believes he has the personnel to move up in 1973.

He succeeded Dick Williams in 1970, after managing three years in the International League, with 6th place finishes at Toronto and Louisville in 1967 and 1968, and second with Louisville in 1969.

Eddie closed a 10 year major league playing career with the Red Sox in 1966, after previously playing for the St. Louis Cardinals, Cincinnati Reds and the Houston Astros. He was the Reds' Most Valuable Player in 1960, a member of their pennant winning team in 1961, and Houston's first captain in 1965.

He first signed into the Baltimore organization in 1949 after graduating from high school in New Jersey, and spent six years in the minor leagues, interrupted by two years as an Army combat engineer, before coming up with the Cardinals to stay in 1957.

THE COACHES

POPOWSKI

Edward J. (Eddie)

Born: Aug. 20, 1913 at Sayreville, N. J. Ht.: 5'4"; Wt. 155 lbs. Blue eyes, Brown hair. Bats and Throws: Right. Married Mary Joan Howley, Dec. 26, 1941. Children: Carole 4/7/43, Terry 7/22/45, Ricky 9/15/52, Randy 8/8/54, Sherry 9/10/57.

"Pop" returns for his seventh season as the Red Sox third base coach, but he already has over 30 years of service in the Red Sox organization as a second baseman, scout, minor league manager and coach. In 21 years in the Red Sox minor league system, teams he managed finished out of the first division only 7 times and he had four pennant winners. He directed the Florida Instructional team for several years, also. Earlier, before signing, he had played for the famed touring "House of David" bearded team of the early 1930's.

LENHARDT

Donald Eugene (Don)

Born: Oct. 4, 1922 at Alton, Ill. Ht.: 6'3"; Wt. 190. Green eyes, Blond hair. Home: St. Louis, Mo. Married Isabel Fracchia, Oct. 27, 1951. Children: Patricia Ann 10/7/52.

Don is entering his fourth year as first base coach, after serving as a Red Sox scout in the midwest and minor league batting instructor for many years. A veteran of Navy service in World War II, he was an outfielder, first baseman, and third baseman for five major league seasons with the St. Louis Browns, White Sox, Red Sox and Tigers before becoming a scout in 1957.

CAMILLI

Douglas Joseph (Doug)

Born: Sept. 22, 1936, Philadelphia, Pa. Ht.: 5'11"; 190 lbs. Brown eyes, Brown hair. Bats and Throws: Right. Home: Winter Haven, Fla. Married Marilyn Mumm, Oct. 19, 1963. Children: Kevin 6/30/64, Jeffrey 7/10/66, Michael 7/25/67, Suzanne 5/12/71.

Doug returns for his fourth year as bullpen coach. He is one of four sons of former major league star Dolph Camilli, and was bullpen coach for Washington for two years before coming to the Red Sox. Earlier, he had an eight-year major league career with the Dodgers and the Senators, highlighted when he caught one of Sandy Koufax' four no-hitters vs Philadelphia on June 4, 1964.

STANGE

Albert Lee (Lee)

Born: October 27, 1936, Chicago, Ill. Ht.: 5'10"; Wt. 170 lbs. Blue eyes, Brown hair. Bats and Throws: Right. Home: Bloomington, Minn. Married Diane Dahl. Children: Tim 9/3/64, Jim 3/22/67, Jana 5/15/68.

"Stinger" did a fine job in his first year as Red Sox pitching coach in 1972, despite key injuries and ailments which upset the rotation several times.

He pitched 10 seasons in the majors with the Twins, Indians, Red Sox and White Sox, before becoming the Red Sox minor league pitching instructor in 1971. In his active days with Boston, he worked several "clutch" games for the pennant-winning 1967 team, was the Red Sox top reliever in 1968 and in 1969, was selected the BoSox Club of Boston "Man of the Year."

THE FRONT OFFICE

Joseph T. Cummiskey

Treasurer

Joe served as a Lieutenant Commander in the Navy during World War II, before joining the Red Sox organization in 1948.

A graduate of Suffolk Law School, he had long experience in both law and accounting prior to becoming the club's assistant treasurer. He was made treasurer of the Red Sox in July, 1959, and also has served through the years on key committees involved in the overall financial structure of major league baseball. He lives in Belmont, Mass.

Edward F. Kenney

Director, Minor League Clubs

Ed joined the Red Sox ticket department in 1946, following Army service in Europe in World War II, and following an outstanding baseball career at Winchester High School and Boston College.

He moved into the minor league department in 1947 and served as executive assistant to several farm directors before becoming director of the minor league system in 1969. He resides in Braintree, Mass.

Neil T. Mahoney

Director, Player Procurement, Scouting

Neil is actually the senior member of the Red Sox organization in point of service, having first become a scout in 1939. During World War II he coached baseball and basketball at Bowdoin College and returned to the Red Sox right after the war. A native of Newton, Mass. he was rated as one of New England's top collegiate and semi-pro catchers through high school and before he graduated from Northeastern University.

He was a player-manager with teams in the Northern and Cape Cod Leagues before becoming a full time scout. He was named the club's farm director in September, 1960 after acting as Eastern scouting supervisor through the 50's. Since 1969, when his longtime assistant Ed Kenney took over direction of minor league clubs, he has directed all Red Sox scouting activities. He makes his home in Chestnut Hill, Mass.

Thomas B. Dowd

Community Relations, Speaking

Tom spent 23 years as traveling secretary of the Red Sox before assuming his present duties in 1969.

A native of Worcester, Mass. and a graduate of Holy Cross College, and a member of that school's athletic Hall of Fame, he is one of New England's most popular toastmasters and after-dinner speakers. For many years, he served as a National Football League official and later as an NFL football radio commentator. He resides in West Roxbury, Mass.

John J. Rogers

Traveling Secretary

Jack enters his fifth season as traveling secretary following 16 years as New England public relations director for Pan American Airways. A native of Somerville, Mass., he attended Boston College before becoming a Navy fighter pilot in World War II. He had been a member of the Boston Braves public relations staff when that club was in Boston. He lives in Jamaica Plain, Mass.

Richard L. Bresciani

Statistician, Assistant Director, Public Relations

A native of Hopedale, Mass., and a graduate of the University of Massachusetts, Dick joined the Red Sox staff in mid-season of 1972 after serving for 11 years as Assistant Sports Information Director for his Alma Mater. Besides writing for many college publications, and also for the Boston Globe and the Cape Cod Standard Times, he had been the publicist and statistician for the Cape Cod Summer Collegiate League for several years. He resides in Saugus, Mass.

William C. Crowley

Director, Public Relations

A native of Dorchester, Mass., he originally joined the Red Sox as a broadcasting partner of Curt Gowdy's in 1958, and became Public Relations Director in October, 1960.

Prior to his graduation from Boston University, he had been an Eighth Air Force bomber pilot during World War II, and later earned a Master's Degree at the University of Minnesota.

A newspaperman before he entered broadcasting in Dayton, Ohio in 1949, Bill later was Sports Information Director and Instructor of Economics at Holy Cross College before joining the Red Sox full-time. He lives in Needham, Mass.

Arthur J. Moscato

Sales Manager

He came to the Red Sox ticket office in 1946, after World War II Navy service as a gunner's mate and yeoman. Arthur was born in Everett, Mass. and majored in Business Management at Boston University Evening College, as he climbed the ladder in the ticket department. He makes his home in Malden, Mass.

John J. Reilly

Auditor

John's service with the Red Sox dates back to the pennant winning year of 1946, following Army service in both the European and Pacific theatres in World War II.

A 1947 graduate of Northeastern University, he is a former director of the Boston Chapter of the National Association of Accountants and lives in Canton, Mass.

Luis Ernesto (Luis)

SHORTSTOP

Born: April 29, 1934, Maracalbo, Venezuela. Ht.: 5'8"; Wt. 162 lbs. Blue eyes. Black hair. Bats and Throws: Right. Home: Maracalbo, Venezuela. Married Sonia M. Llorente; children: Louls 5/24/57, Sonia 6/29/58, Sharon 11/24/60, Karen 6/14/64, Nelson 11/3/65.

Like the famous river, Luis keeps rolling on, and despite losing 44 games with a broken finger, was voted the 1972 Red Sox "Comeback Player of the Year" by the Boston writers. Although he doesn't have the range he had when he was a nine time Gold Glove winner at short in the league, his experience and knowledge of the hitters still enable him to make the big plays.

Every game he plays he adds to his durability record, having eclipsed Luke Appling's previous shortstop record of 2,218 in 1971. Only the broken finger kept him from participating in his 11th All Star game in 1972 and he has led the league nine times in stolen bases. Luis was player-manager of the Lara club in the Venezuelan winter league this year.

His late father was a great shortstop in Venezuela and Luis has high hopes that his 15 year old son will follow in the family tradition.

SHORTSTOP

Born: May 13, 1950, San Sebastian, Puerto Rico. Ht.: 5'11"; Wt. 162 lbs. Brown eyes, Black hair. Bats and Throws: Right. Home: San Sebastian, P.R. Signed by scout Pedro Vasquez, Oct. 1, 1968. Married Irma Luz Gonzalez. Children: Juan Jr. 4/3/69.

This will be the year of decision in Juan's case. There seems little question that he will be a fine major league hitter, and at times he has played sensationally in the field, but he continues to have throwing problems. He had 14 errors in just 27 games, mostly throwing, when he tried to fill in for Aparicio last year. Since his arm is strong, there is a possibility he will be moved to the outfield, which would mean another year in triple A for outfield experience. He has had two very solid seasons as a hitter in the Puerto Rican winter league. He was a star at all levels in his native Puerto Rico before being signed by the late Pedro Vasquez.

PITCHER

Born: January 29, 1939 at Hickory Grove, S. C. Ht.: 6'4"; Wt.: 215 lbs. Blue eyes, Blond hair. Bats and Throws: Right. Home: York, S. C. Married Irene White. Children: Donna 7/13/64; Brettly 9/14/66.

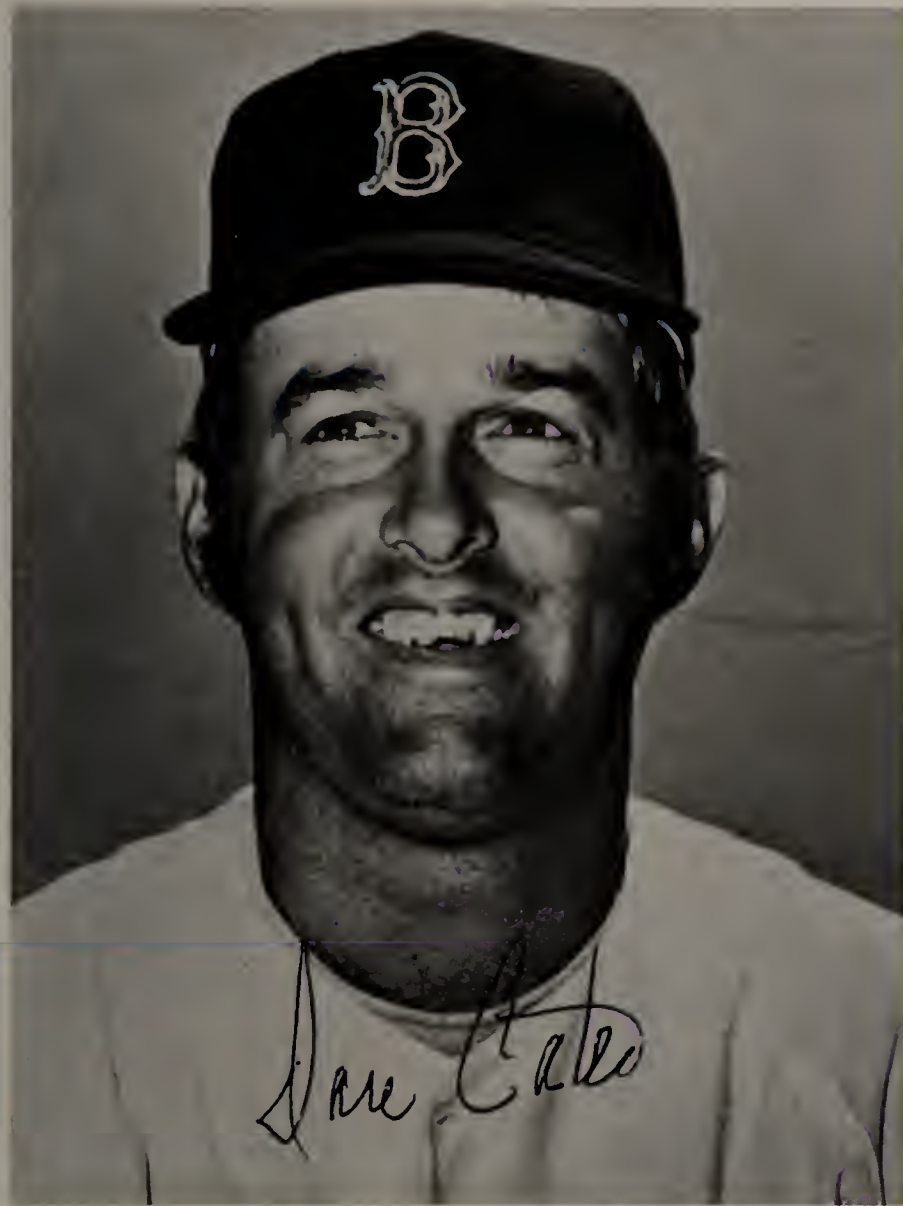

After a slow start in 1972, Bob agreed to drop down to Louisville, where he did an excellent job and returned to Boston in time to do a very effective job in the Red Sox surge in September. He was the workhorse in the Boston bullpen in 1971, working both long and short relief.

Since 1961, when he broke in with the Giants he had been both a starter and reliever, but has been used solely in relief with Boston. He had four no hitters in his senior year at Hickory Grove High School, where he also played basketball and football, before signing with the Pittsburgh Pirates organization. Through a technicality he later was declared a free agent and signed with the Giants. In 1959, he had a 22 strikeout performance with Eugene. His brother, Joe, played briefly in the Baltimore farm system.

Danny Anderson (Danny) FIRST BASEMAN

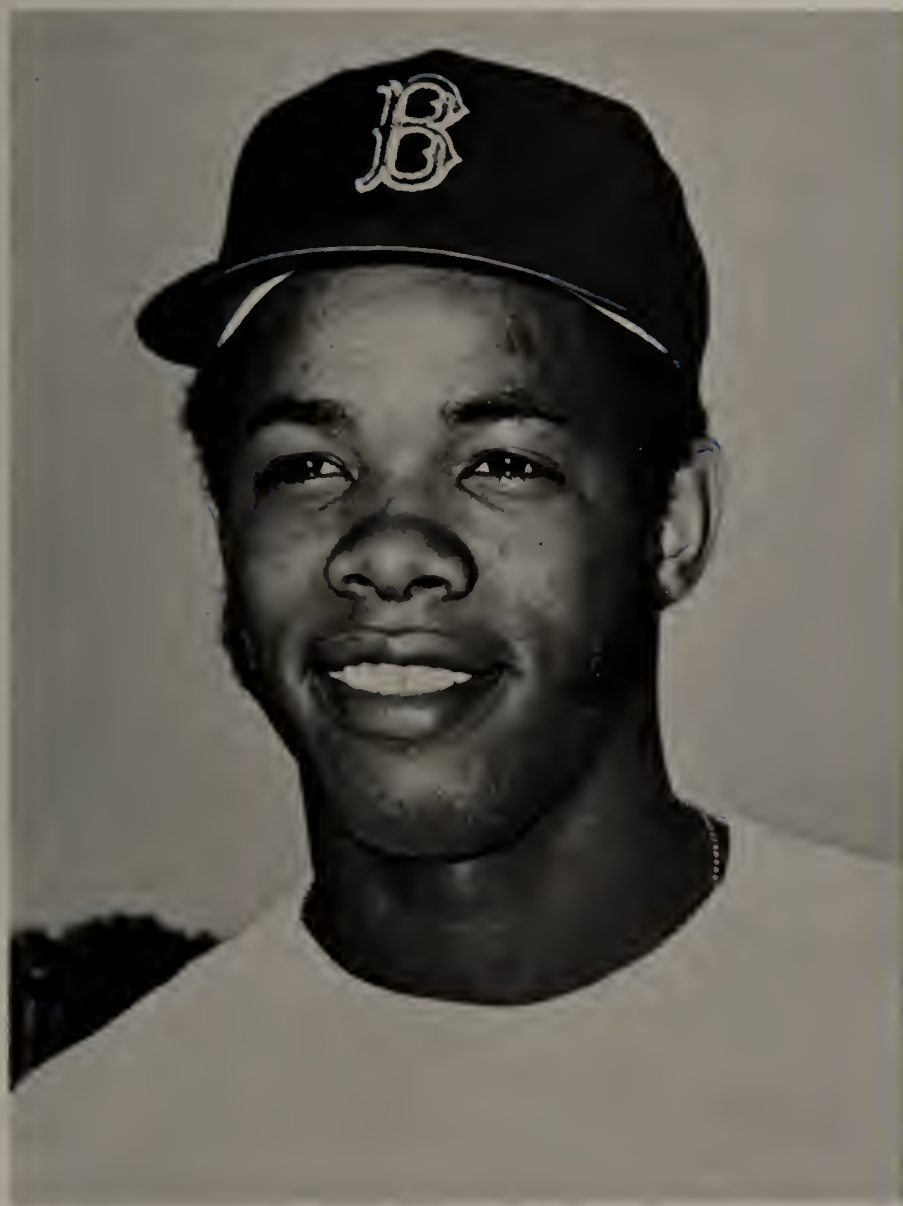

Born: Feb. 25, 1940, Austin, Texas. Ht.: 5'11"; Wt.: 185 lbs. Hazel eyes, Brown hair. Bats and Throws: Right. Home: Williamsport, Pa. Married Gail A. Hawkins. Children: Dana Ann 6/24/61, Robyn Marie 7/15/62, Amy Lynn 10/14/67.

Danny just didn't hit for the Red Sox in 1972, as he had always hit against Boston (a lifetime plus .300 average against the Red Sox). It was only after Carl Yastrzemski moved in to first base that the Red Sox came alive last season, so Danny will have to do a complete turnabout to get the Red Sox first base job in 1973.

Originally signed by the Phillies organization in 1958, after starring in Babe Ruth League and high school baseball in Austin, Texas. Currently, he works in the national headquarters of Little League baseball in Williamsport, Pa. in the off season.

Cooper

Cecil Celester (Flash) FIRST BASEMAN

Born: December 20, 1949, Brenham, Texas. Ht.: 6'2"; Wt.: 185 lbs. Brown eyes, Black hair. Bats and Throws: Left. Home: Brenham, Texas. Signed by scout Dave Philley, June 14, 1968. Single.

He might be ready this year and if he is, it could solve a couple of key Red Sox problems. He has had excellent minor league hitting credentials at every level, has excellent speed, can hit with power to all fields, and has gradually improved his fielding skills around first base.

Cecil was a member of two high school championship teams before signing in 1968, and attends Prairie View A & M in the off season. His brother played for the Indianapolis Clowns in the middle sixties.

John Duffield II (John)

PITCHER

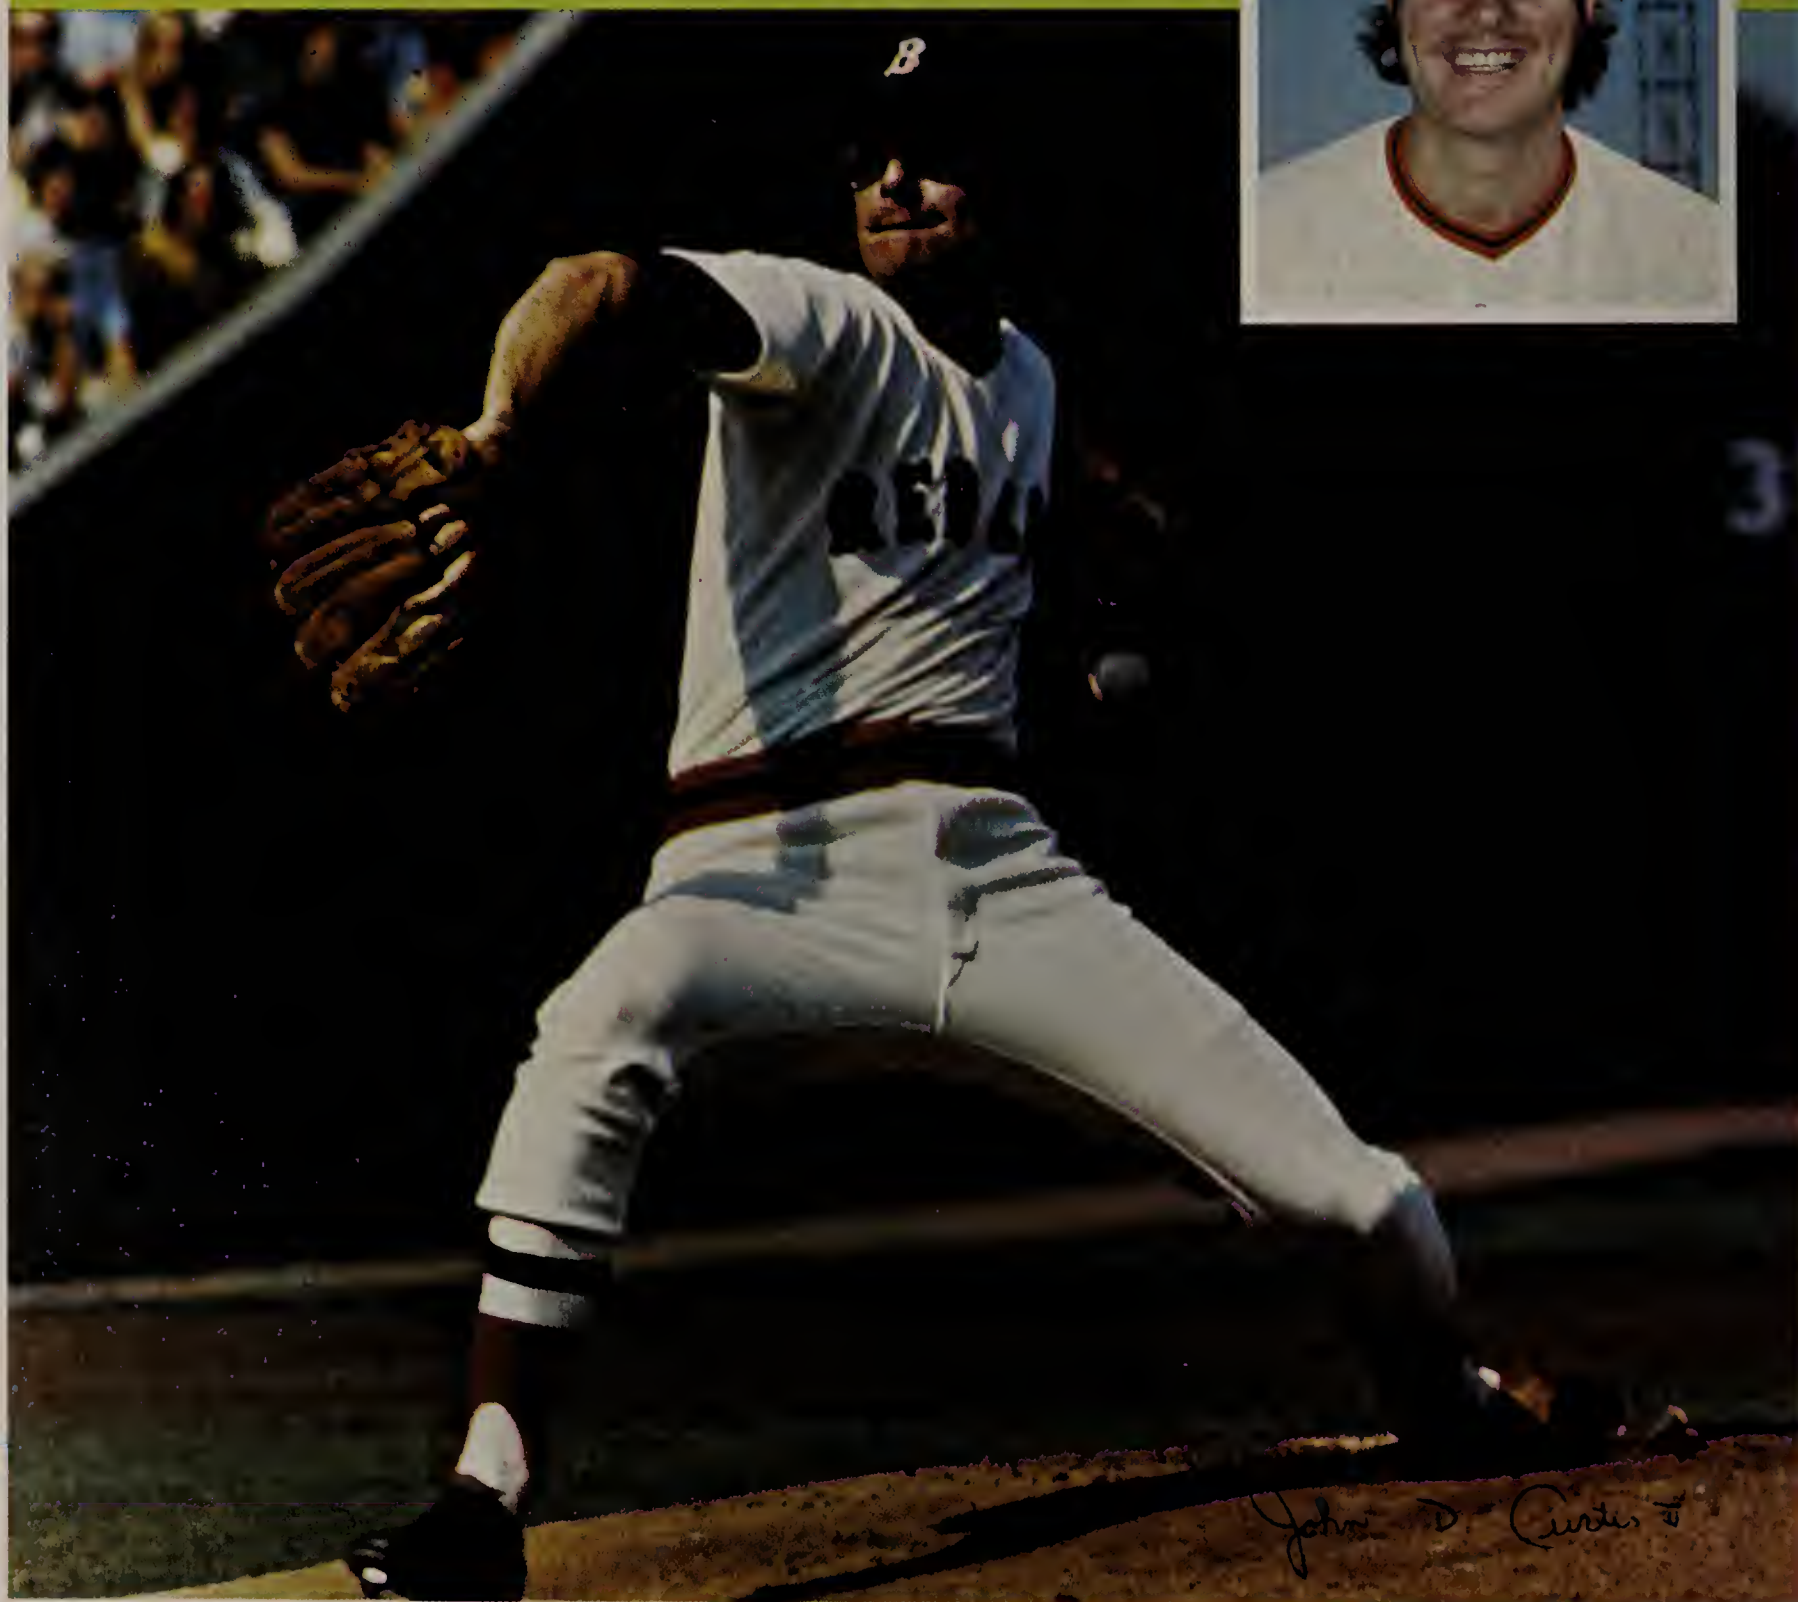

Born: March 9, 1948, Newton, Mass. Ht.: 6'1"; Wt.: 186 lbs. Brown eyes, Brown hair. Bats and Throws: Left. Home: Greenville, S.C. Signed by Scout "Bots" Nikola, June 12, 1968, after Red Sox chose him number one in the free agent draft of June, 1968. Married Brenda Lee Pepple.

He came to Boston in late May, when Roger Moret was sent to Louisville, and was the key southpaw starter for the rest of the year. Six of his 11 wins were at Fenway Park, including four complete games, so the "Wall" which has bothered many lefthanders doesn't seem to worry John.

This former standout high school pitcher on Long Island, was Cleveland's number one selection in the free agent draft of 1966, but he chose to attend Clemson University before signing with the Red Sox after his sophomore year. He pitched three no hitters as a college freshman, and in 1967 became the first U. S. pitcher to beat Cuba as the U. S. team won the gold medal in the Pan American games. An English major in college, John has worked as an off season sportswriter and expects to be a writer.

Culp

Raymond Leonard, Jr. (Ray) PITCHER

Born: August 6, 1941, Elgin, Texas. Ht.: 6'; Wt. 202 lbs. Blue eyes, Brown hair. Bats and Throws: Right. Home: Austin, Texas. Married Sharon Lee Mullins. Children: Mitzi 7/18/64, Sherri 12/7/66, Tammi 3/30/70.

The occasions have been extremely rare when a pitcher has been able to successfully come back after the type of shoulder operation performed on Ray Culp last summer, but no one, who knows this courageous performer, would bet that he can't.

He didn't pitch after July 13th and was disabled on July 20th because of the constant pain, which was thought to be caused by calcium deposits. The operation revealed a torn tendon in the shoulder, which was repaired and he's ready to try again after a full winter's rest and therapy.

Ray pitched in pain a great deal of his career, but nevertheless was Boston's Most Valuable Pitcher in 1968, 1969 and 1970. Despite two losing seasons in a row, his Red Sox record still stands at 69-52.

He operates a small ranch in Austin, Texas, where he starred in football, track and baseball in high school before originally signing with the Phillies.

Dwight Michael (Dewey) OUTFIELDER

Born: November 3, 1951, Santa Monica, Calif. Ht.: 6'3"; Wt.: 195 lbs. Brown eyes, Brown hair. Bats and Throws: Right. Home: Chatsworth, California. Signed by Scout Joe Stephenson, June 15, 1969. Married Susan Ann Severson. Children:

One of the very best prospects in all of baseball, Dwight became the 1972 Most Valuable Player in the International League, even though he was hitting under .200 into the month of June. With patient handling, he adjusted to hit .300 for the season and led the League in RBI's.

Then, in Boston, he did an extraordinary job in 18 pressure packed games in September to signal his readiness for full time duty in the majors. He also spent part of the winter under Luis Aparicio with the Lara club in Venezuela.

His 1973 status will depend on what happens in the Red Sox first base scramble, and with his great arm and better than average speed, it's possible he will be the Red Sox right fielder this year.

He was a star pitcher and third baseman throughout his amateur career, climaxed as batting champion and most valuable player in the Los Angeles area at Chatsworth High before signing. Only 21 years old, Dwight has grown about three inches and added 25 pounds of power in his four professional seasons.

Carlton E. (Pudge)

CATCHER

Born: Dec. 26, 1947, Bellows Falls, Vt. Ht.: 6'2"; Wt.: 210 lbs. Hazel eyes, Brown hair. Bats and Throws: Right. Home: Keene, N. H. Signed February 3, 1967, after being Red Sox number one selection in winter draft. Married Linda Lee Foust. Children: Carlyn 9/26/70, Carson 2/20/72.

At 25, "Pudge" may already be the best catcher in the American League. He became the first unanimous choice as American League "Rookie of the Year", also Boston's Most Valuable Player, the American League All Star catcher as voted by his fellow players in the Sporting News, and the 1972 catching Gold Glove winner. It was his season long performance which kept the Red Sox within striking distance throughout 1972, and he seems destined for a great career.

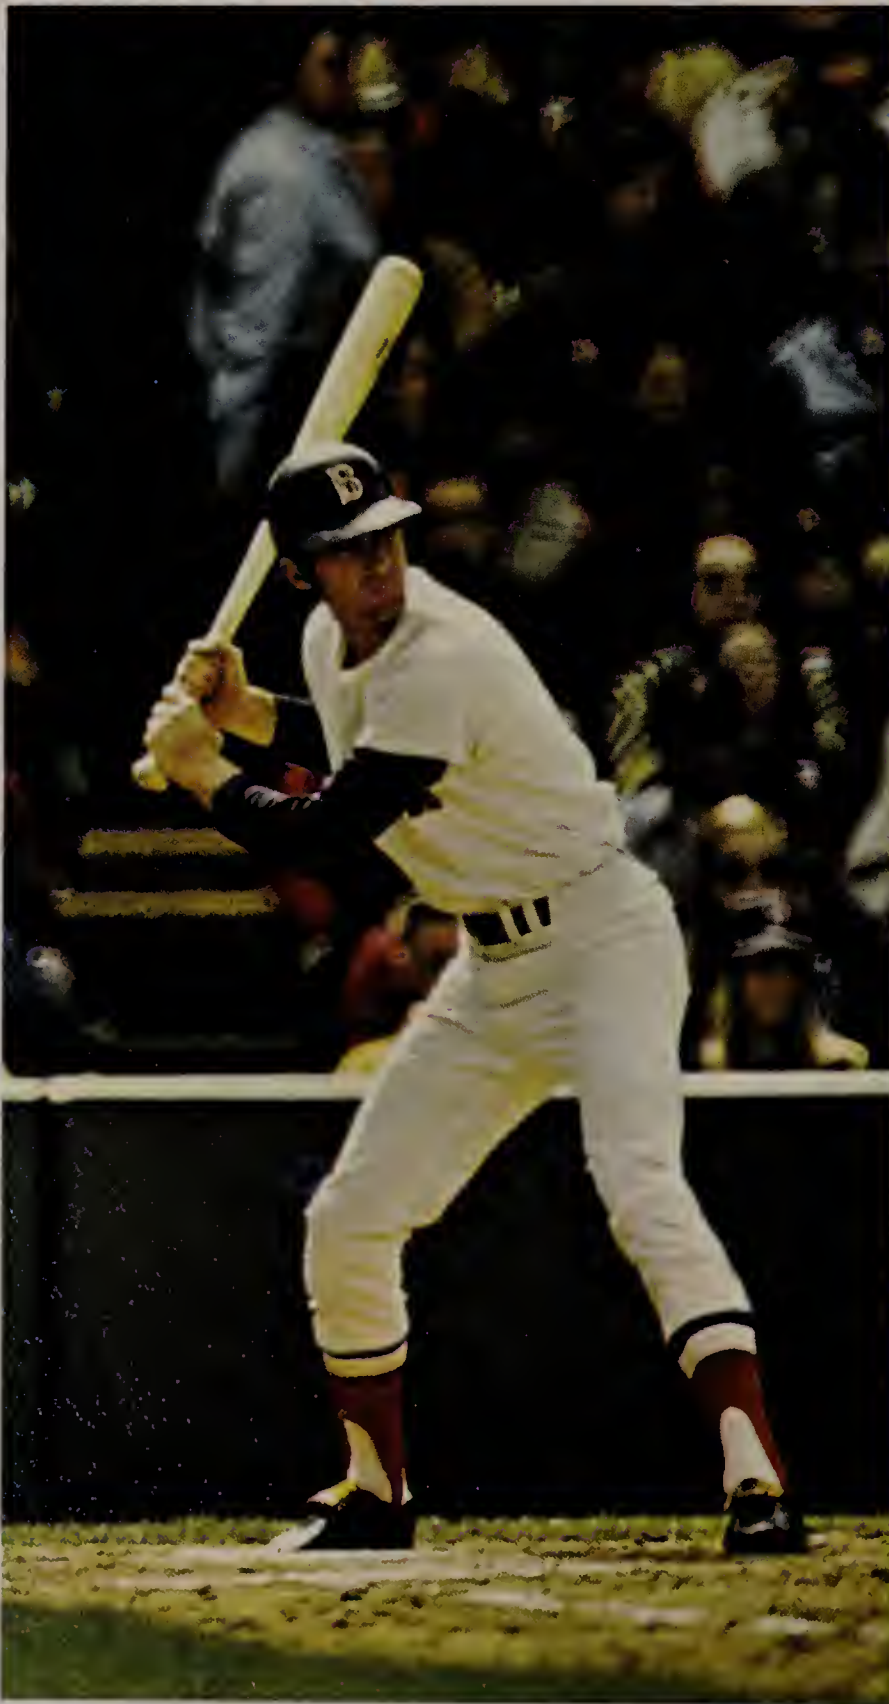

An excellent receiver with a strong and accurate arm, he developed steadily as a handler of pitchers and a take charge guy on the club. He has had his nickname of "Pudge" since childhood, and carried it through his starring days in baseball, basketball and soccer at Charlestown, N.H. High and into the University of New Hampshire before signing. As a native New Englander, he became one of the most popular new players in Red Sox history in the six state region.

Douglas Lee, Jr. (Dude) SECOND BASEMAN

Born: June 4, 1947, South Gate, Calif. Ht.: 6'; Wt.: 170 lbs. Green eyes, Brown hair. Bats and Throws: Right. Home: Peabody, Mass. Married Nancy Lynn Harp. Children: Natalie 3/16/69, Douglas 1/29/71.

The American League Gold Glove winner at second base in 1972, despite losing 19 games in August with a broken hand, Doug should be a long time fixture with the Red Sox. He had no back problems in 1972, something which had troubled him in 1971, when he was the Red Sox "Rookie of the Year", and he and Aparicio turned in many sensational double plays for the second year in a row.

Doug was a four letter winner at El Monte (Calif.) High before signing with the Angels. He spent 1967 and 1968 in the Navy, when he helped lead the Hawaiian champions to berths in the National Baseball Congress tournament in Wichita, where they finished second in 1967. He has spent the past two winters in ticket and advertising sales with the Red Sox.

Michael D. (Mike)

PITCHER

Born: Sept. 16, 1949, Caldwell, Idaho. Ht.: 6'3"; Wt.: 215 lbs. Blue eyes, Brown hair. Bats and Throws: Right. Home: Wilder, Idaho. Signed by Scout Earl Johnson, June 9, 1967, after being the Red Sox number one draft selection in June, 1967. Married Linda Lee Lanfear. Children: Greg 4/20/67.

Blessed with one of the best arms in baseball, this may be the year for him to come to full maturity. He divided his time as a starter and reliever with Louisville and his control showed marked improvement, so it is possible, Mike might emulate a former great Red Sox reliever, Dick Radatz, who switched to the bullpen and became a big Boston favorite.

Mike was a fine all around athlete at Caldwell High before signing with the Sox. His father once played in the Pittsburgh farm system and his brother is in the San Francisco system.

John Edward (JK)

INFIELDER

Born: May 29, 1941, Chicago, Ill. Ht.: 6'; Wt.: 190 lbs. Hazel eyes, Red hair. Bats and Throws: Right. Home: W. Peabody, Mass. Married Betty Jayne Brown. Children: Scott 9/10/64, Kristen 10/12/68.

Earned the nickname of "Super Sub" in 1971 at Fenway Park, and did it again in 1972, filling in when Doug Griffin and Luis Aparicio were injured for extended periods. The Red Sox were 10 games over .500 in games in which John started.

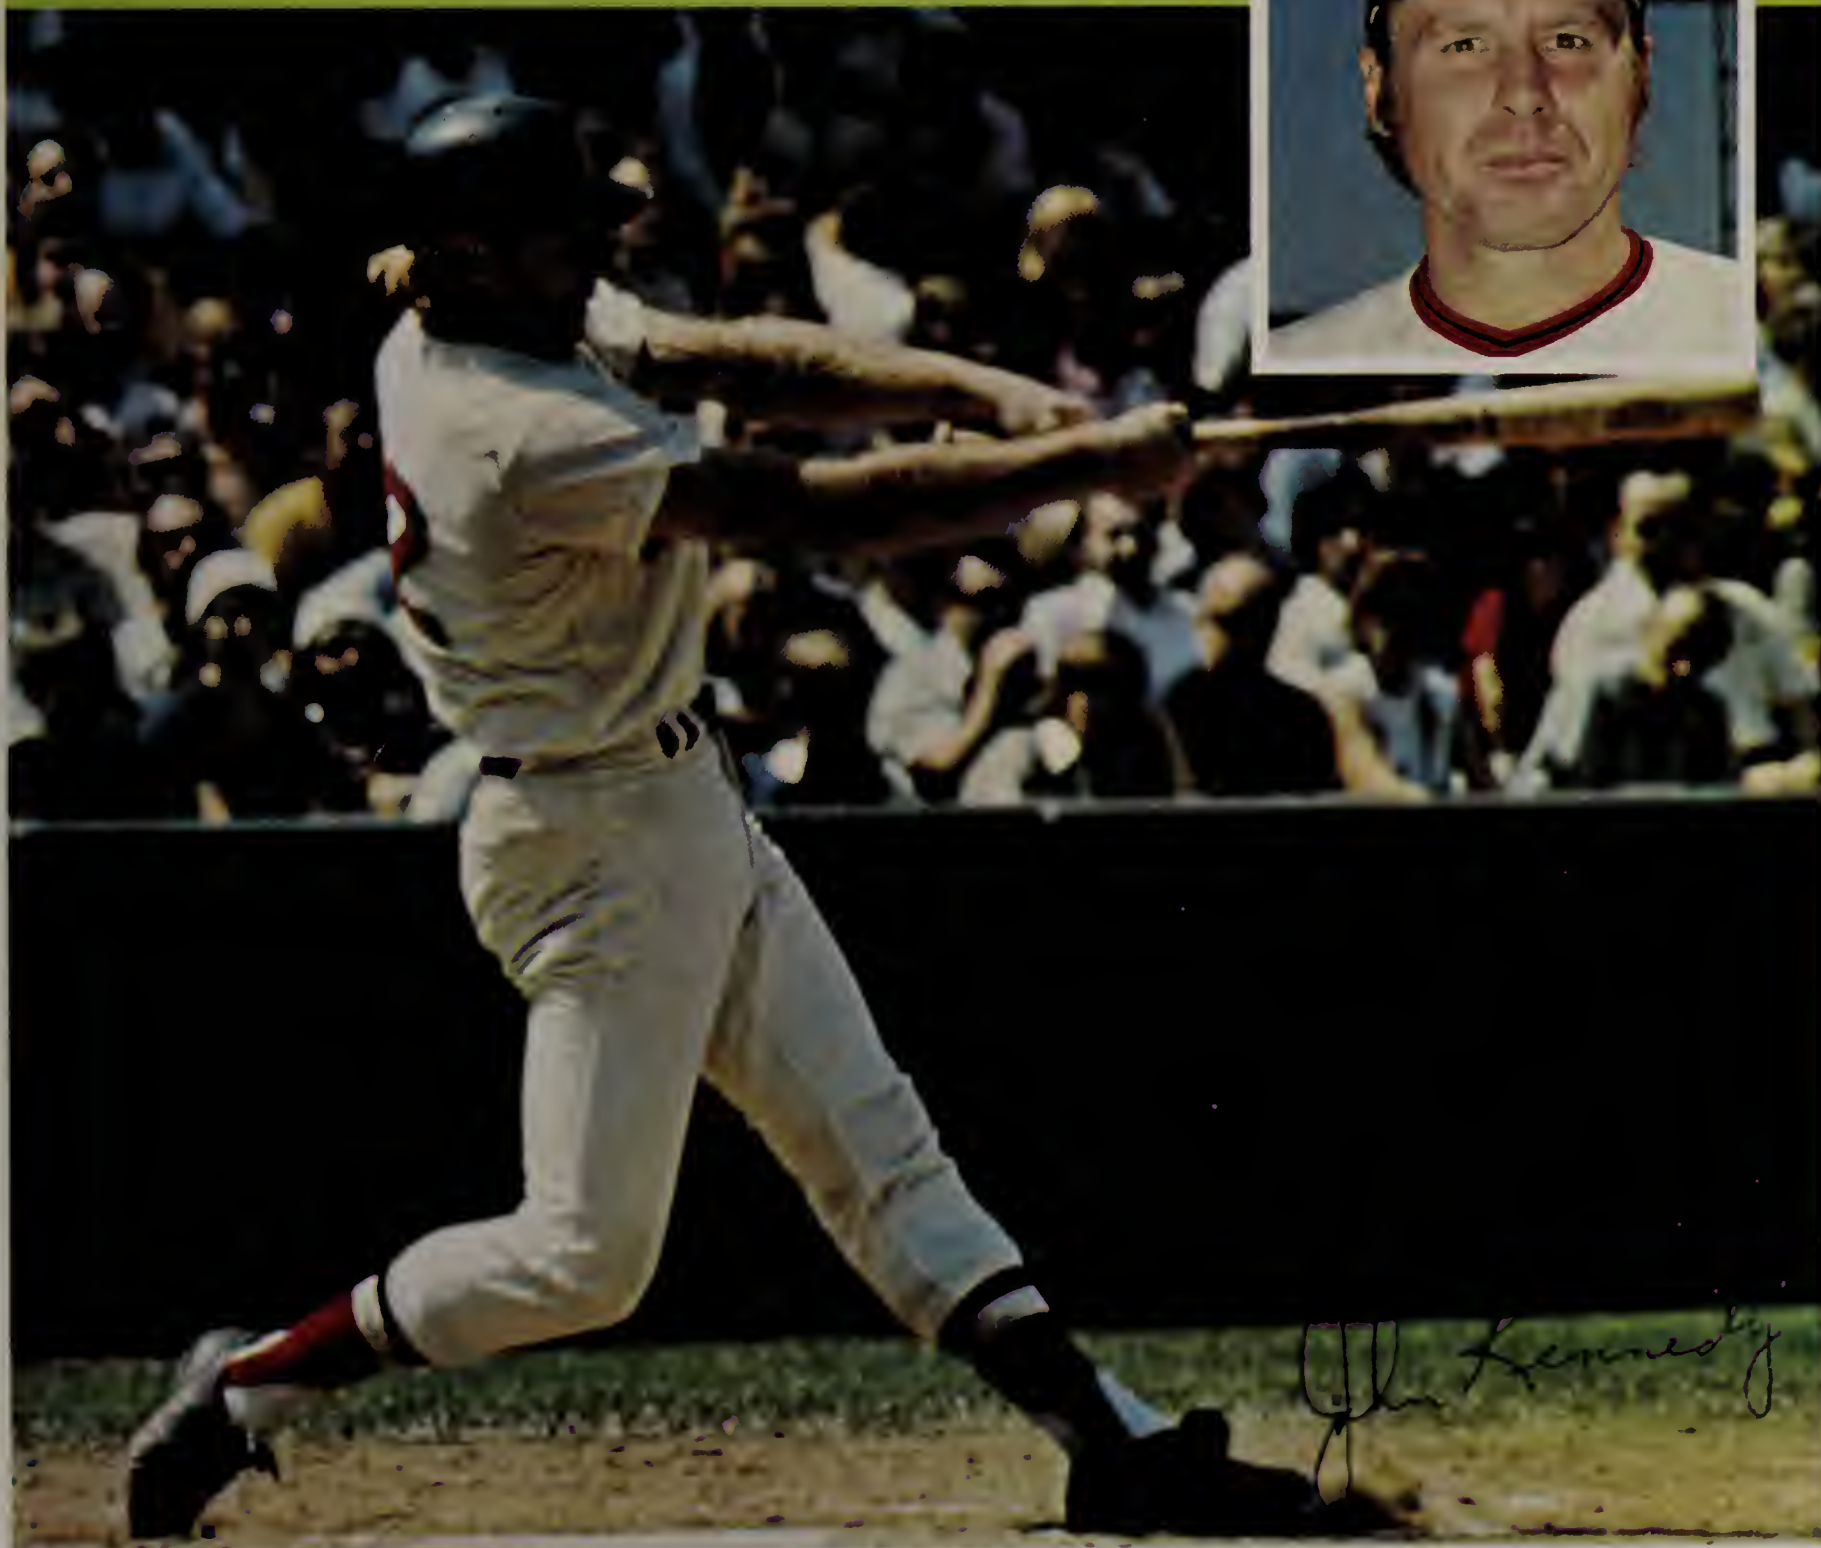

Before he signed with Washington in 1961, he had been a three year standout in football, basketball and baseball at Harper High in Chicago. He hit a homerun in his first major league at bat in 1962 and had an inside the park homerun in his first Red Sox at bat in 1970. Now a resident of Massachusetts, he has spent the past two winters in advertising sales and ticket promotion work for the Red Sox.

Tommy (Tommy)

OUTIELDER

Born: October 14, 1940, Oak-Grove, La. Ht.: 5'9"; Wt.: 160 lbs. Brown eyes, Black hair. Bats and Throws: Right. Home: Berkeley, Calif. Married Bonnie Jean Williams.

Tommy did the job expected of him as the leadoff batter for the Red Sox last year, reaching safely in 126 of his 144 games, and leading the club in runs scored with 92. He also gave the Red Sox their best stolen base threat in many, many years.

Although he played centerfield almost exclusively in 1972, he might well be in left field for 1973, depending on the first base scramble.

Among his baseball credits of note are his 73 stolen bases in 1969, most in the American League since Ty Cobb's 96 in 1915, and his 31 homeruns and 38 stolen bases in 1970, making him one of only five players ever to hit 30 HR's and steal 30 bases in the same season.

Tommy had been a three sport star at Encinal (Calif.) High, Santa Rosa Junior College and MVP with a .507 average at San Francisco State before signing with Cincinnati in 1960.

Lee

William Francis (Bill) PITCHER

Born: December 28, 1946, Burbank, Calif. Ht.: 6'3"; Wt.: 210 lbs. Green eyes, Brown hair. Bats and Throws: Left. Home: San Rafael, Calif. Signed by Scout Joe Stephenson, after being selected in free agent draft, June, 1968. Married Mary Lou Helfrick. Children: Michael 7/16/70.

He was impressive once again as a reliever through May (4-1 with 2 saves), but was a .500 pitcher the rest of the way in 1972, a disappointment after a great 1971 season when he was selected the club's "Fireman of the Year". His performance in spring training will be watched closely in the stiff competition for berths on the regular season staff.

Bill signed with the Red Sox following a 38-8 record in four years at Southern California and two wins in two days in helping the 1968 Trojans win the college world series. Earlier in Little League, etc., he had also played first base. He has a bachelor's degree from USC and has taken graduate work at the Univ. of Southern Mississippi. This winter, he pitched briefly in Venezuela.

Richard Alan (Rick) OUTFIELDER

Born: April 19, 1948, Grand Rapids, Mich. Ht.: 6'; Wt.: 180 lbs. Blue eyes, Brown hair. Bats and Throws: Left. Home: Grand Rapids, Mich. Signed by Scout Maurice DeLoof, June 19, 1969. Single.

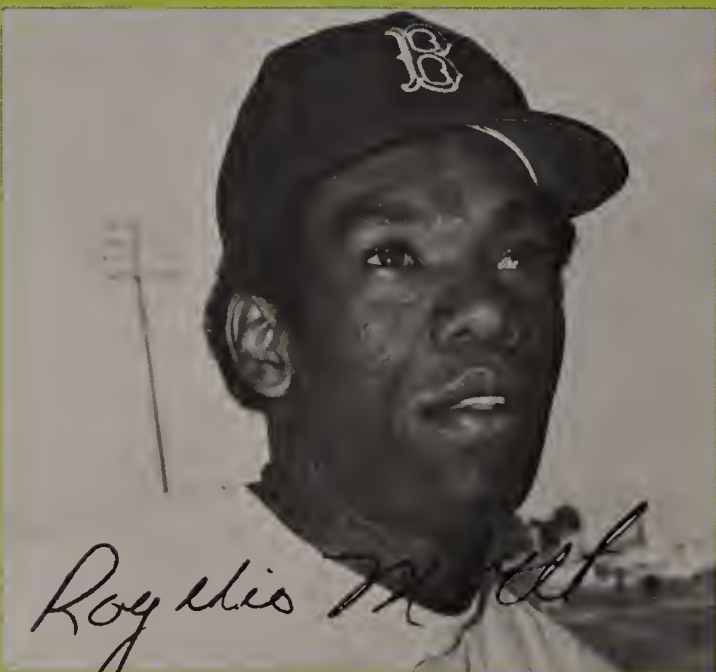

Rick became the late game defensive caddy for Tommy Harper in centerfield in 1972, and made a few spectacular game-saving plays which earned him "Unsung Hero" honors from the Boston Writers. A great fielder, with excellent running speed, he still has to prove he can hit consistently to stay in the majors. He worked on his hitting in the Florida Instructional League last Fall.

As the Red Sox number two pick in the June, 1969 draft, he jumped right into double A baseball. He had been a pitcher-outfielder at Union High, and followed with the Big Ten batting title at Michigan State.

Moret

Rogelio (Roger) PITCHER

Born: September 16, 1949, Guayama, Puerto Rico. Ht.: 6'4"; Wt.: 175 lbs. Brown eyes, Black hair. Bats: Switch. Throws: Left. Home: Guayama, P. R. Signed by Scout Pedro Vasquez, December 15, 1967. Single.

Roger had been counted on to be a member of regular rotation in 1972, after an impressive showing with the Red Sox in late 1971 and a sensational winter season, but he never got untracked at Fenway Park and struggled most of the rest of the year at Louisville. He was definitely a major disappointment. However, again after a slow winter start, he started to pitch effectively late in the Puerto Rican winter season and may be ready for a turnabout. Spring training will be very important to his future.

When he's right, Roger has good fast ball and a sharp curve, but he relied more on slow breaking stuff in 1972 and got in trouble. Another prospect signed by the late Pedro Vasquez after graduation from Rafael Landron High in 1967.

Montgomery

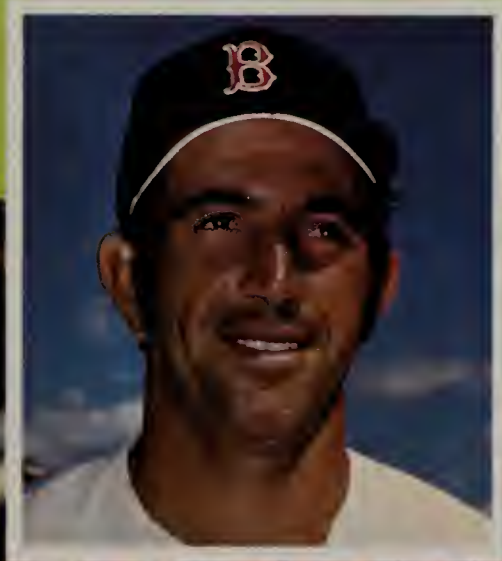

Robert Edward (Monty) CATCHER

Born: April 16, 1944, Nashville, Tenn. Ht.: 6'1"; Wt.: 203 lbs. Brown eyes, Black hair. Bats and Throws: Right. Home: Brookline, Mass. Signed by Scout George Digby, June, 9 1962. Single.

Monty will face challenges from a comebacking Duane Josephson and rookie Vic Correll to retain his number two catching position, but he is used to challenge. He battled his way through nine years in the minor league system before coming to Fenway Park to stay in 1971, and in 1972, made some key contributions with his bat, notably a three run homer to beat the Yankees, 6-5, in the ninth inning in late July in a big game. He had been the All Star catcher in the International League in 1969 and 1970.

He was a pitcher, first baseman and outfielder before turning professional, and starred at Central High in Nashville in baseball, basketball and football. A licensed pilot, he has spent the past two winters in ticket and advertising sales promotion with the Red Sox.

Lynn Eversatt (Mac)

PITCHER

Born: March 27, 1950, Monroe, La. Ht.: 6'2"; Wt.: 195 lbs. Brown eyes, Black hair. Bats: Left. Throws: Right. Home: Slmsboro, La. Signed by Scout Ed Scott, June 10, 1968, after free agent draft of June, 1968. Single.

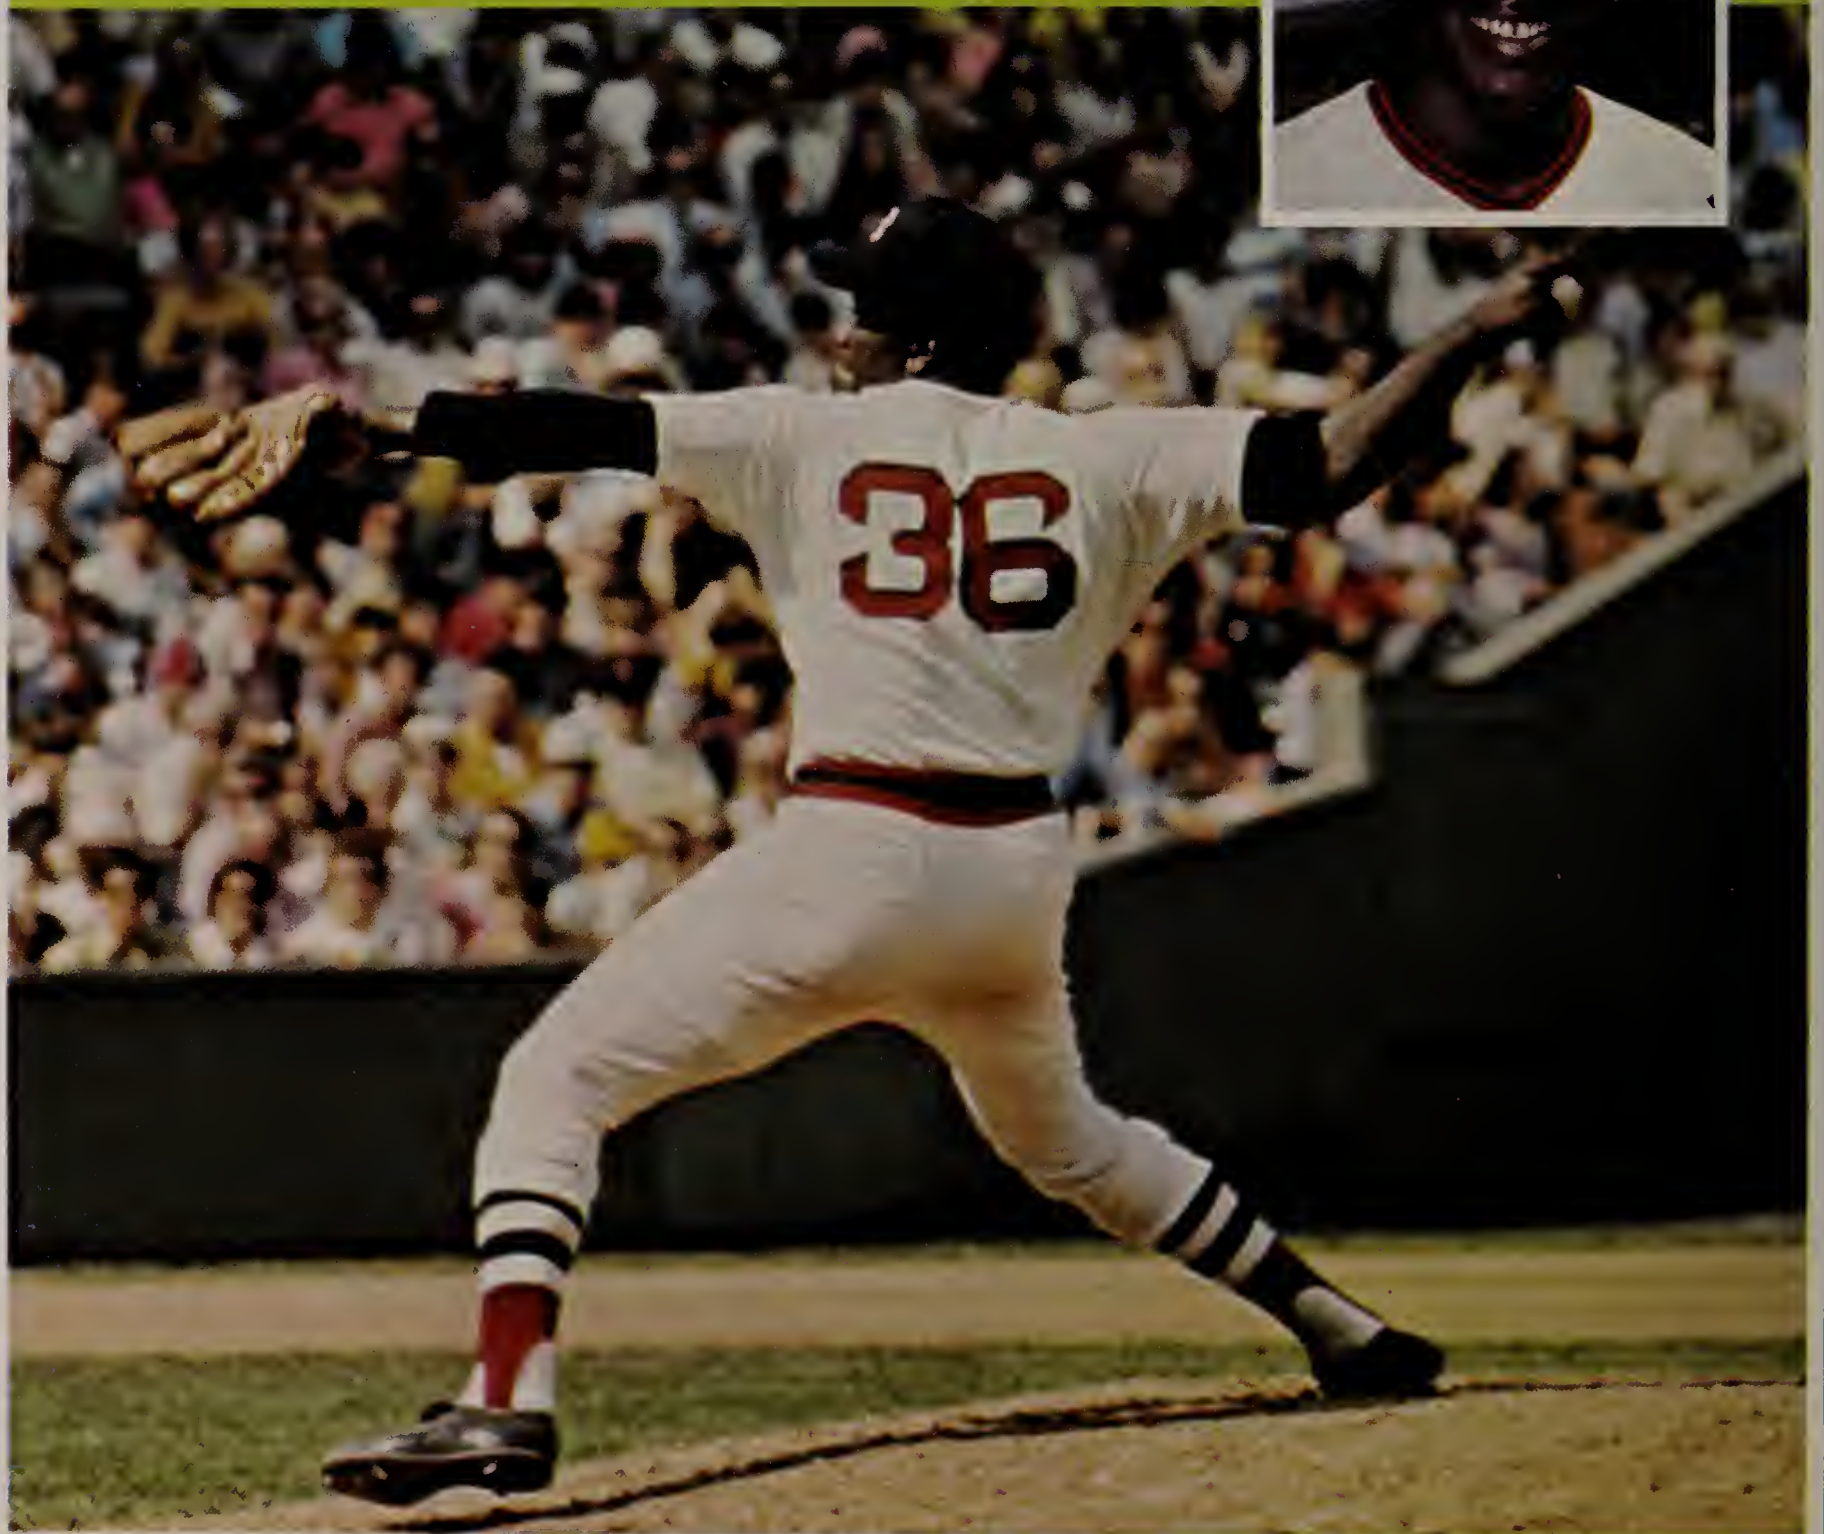

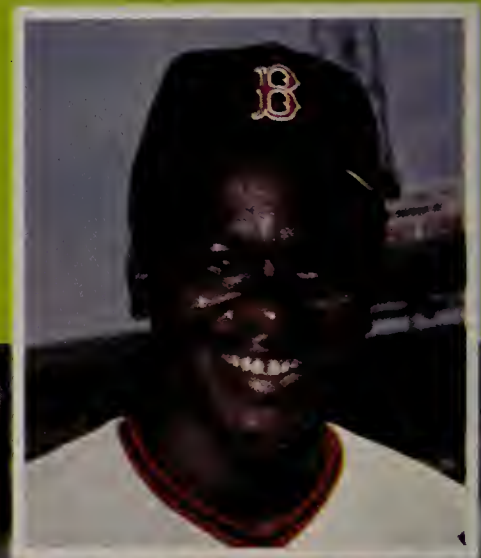

He pitched excellent baseball for a rookie after being recalled from Louisville on June 21, and has added an outstanding winter campaign in Puerto Rico to show he is ready for a regular spot in the Red Sox rotation. His record would have been even better in 1972, but he was never the benefactor of too many runs and his own wildness hurt him at times.

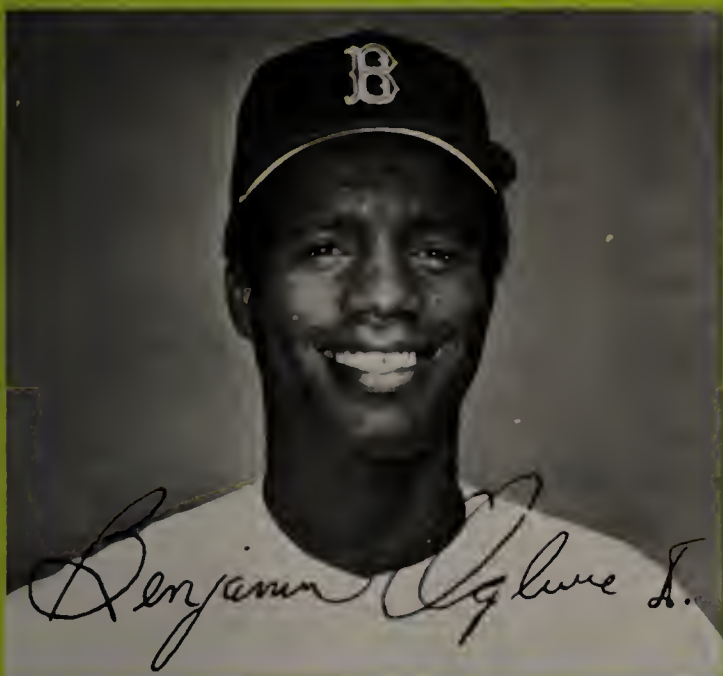

Lynn was a great athlete at Grambling (La.) High, with 16 letters earned in baseball, football, basketball and tennis, and was the Red Sox third draft selection in June, 1968.

OUTFIELDER

Born: February 11, 1949, Colon, Panama. Ht.: 6'2"; Wt. 177 lbs. Black eyes, Black hair. Bats and Throws: Left. Home: Cambria Heights, New York. Signed by Scout "Bots" Nekoia July 14, 1968, after free agent draft of June, 1968. Married Cecelia A. Evans.

Ben led the Red Sox as a pinch hitter and was an outstanding clutch hitter in 1972. He hit six of his eight homeruns from the seventh inning on and had five game winning RBI's. His pinch hit average was .375.

A good outfielder, with fine speed and a strong arm, he can fill it at any outfield post, and will undoubtedly be one of the club's extra outfielders in 1973.

Born in Panama, but raised in the Bronx, he played both baseball and soccer at Theodore Roosevelt High before signing.

Newhauser

Donald Louis Jr. (Newy)

PITCHER

Born: November 7, 1947, Miami, Fla. Ht.: 6'4"; Wt.: 215 lbs. Green eyes, Auburn hair. Bats and Throws: Right. Home: Miramar, Fla. Signed by Scout George Digby, April 30, 1967. Married Linda Christine Tymms. Children: Donald III 5/1/70, Eddie 12/8/72.

He became the Red Sox' number one right-handed short reliever immediately after his arrival from Louisville on June 11th, and provided Fenway Park fans with great excitement with back to back wins in relief in a big series with the Oakland A's in late July, pitching seven innings and allowing only one hit. After July, when he had three wins, two saves and no runs allowed, he struggled somewhat, but his experiences of 1972 should make him ready for a full major league campaign in 1973.

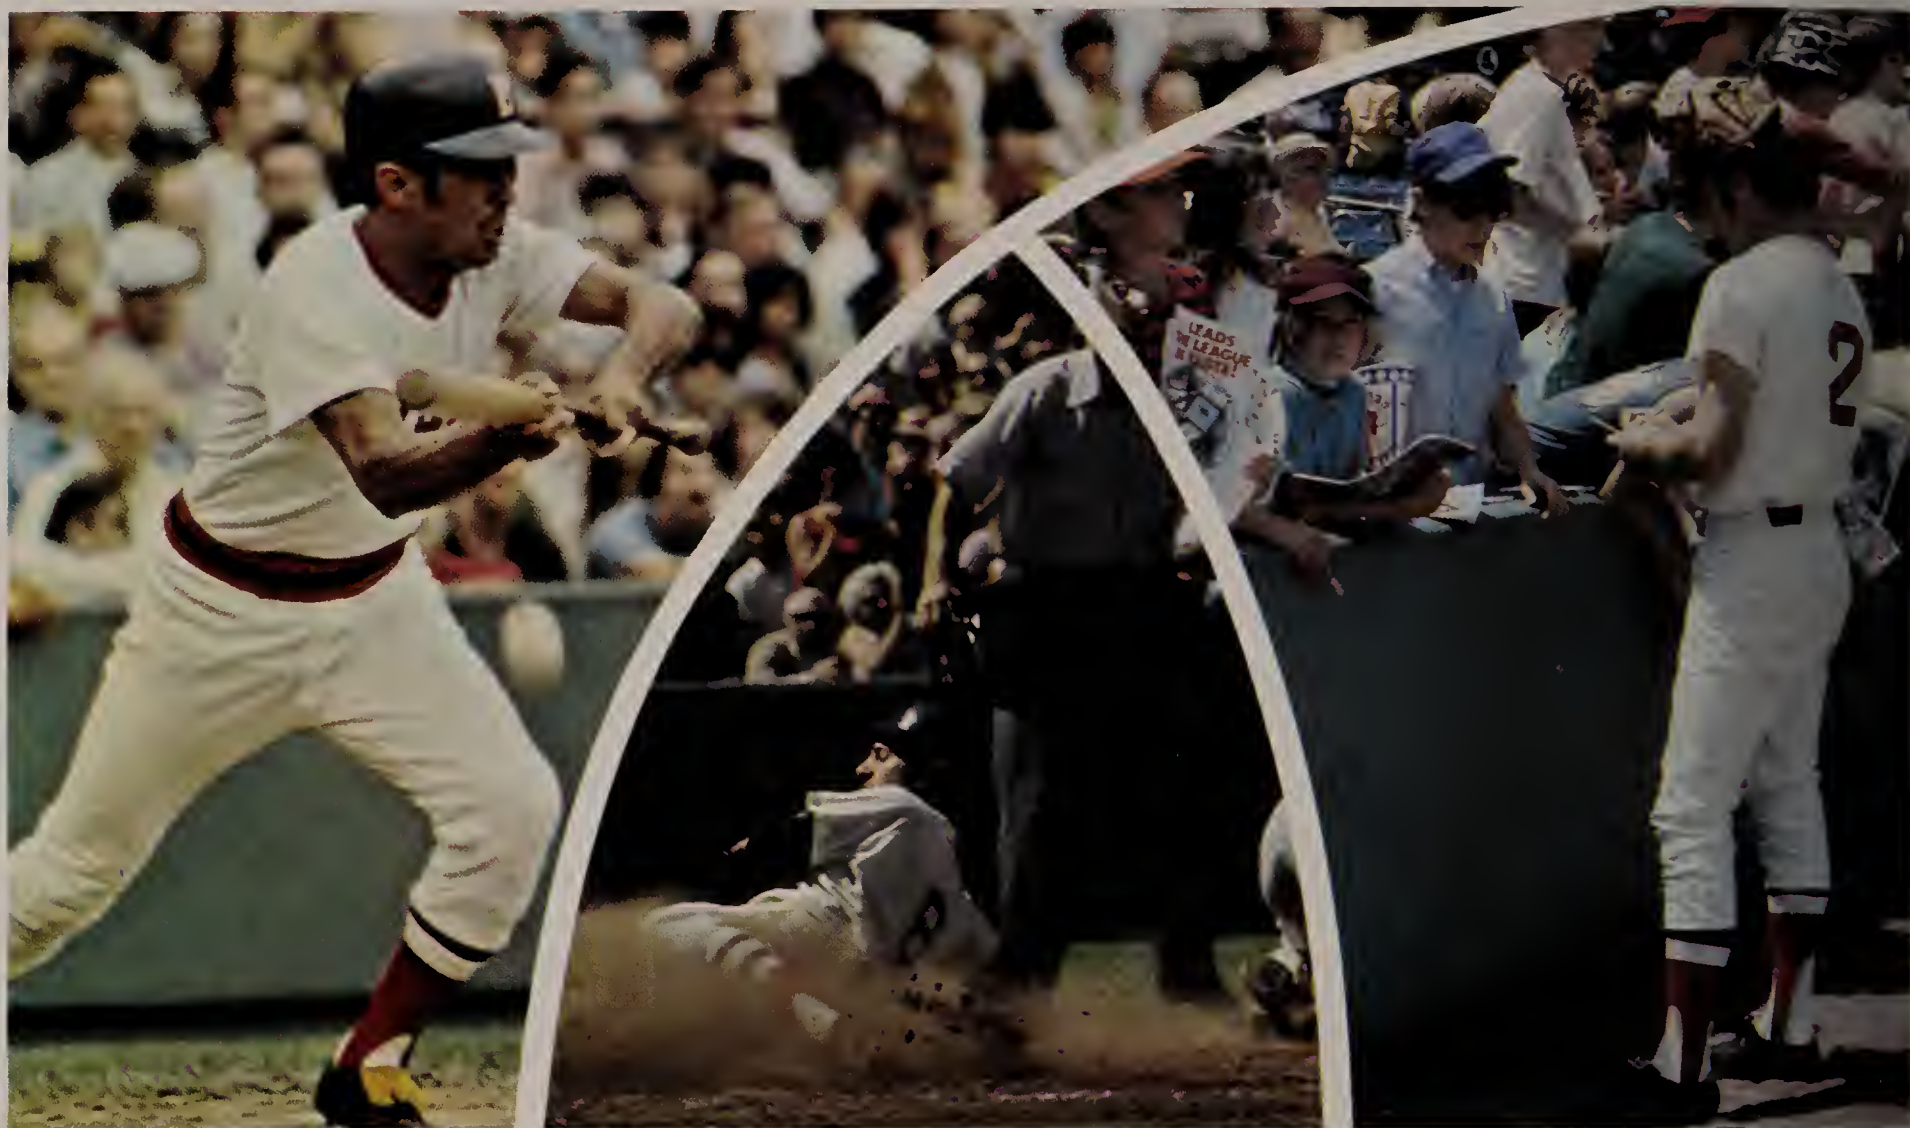

Big and strong, with a good sinker, he starred at Msgr. Pace High and Broward County Junior College before signing in 1967.

PITCHER

Born: April 6, 1943, Charleston, Ill. Ht.: 5'11"; Wt.: 178 lbs. Hazel eyes, Blond hair. Bats and Throws: Right. Home: Charleston, Ill. Married Vera Ann Replogle. Children: Jon 5/29/67, Jeff 5/10/71.

It took a while, actually through June 20, 1972, before Marty lived up to expectations. After losing to Texas on that date, he was 2-8 with a 5.67 ERA. For the rest of the season, he went 15-4 as a starter with a 2.22 ERA and wound up leading the Red Sox staff in wins, starts, innings, strikeouts and complete games. His 17 wins and 13 complete games were new career highs for him, and he should be a 20 game winner in 1973.

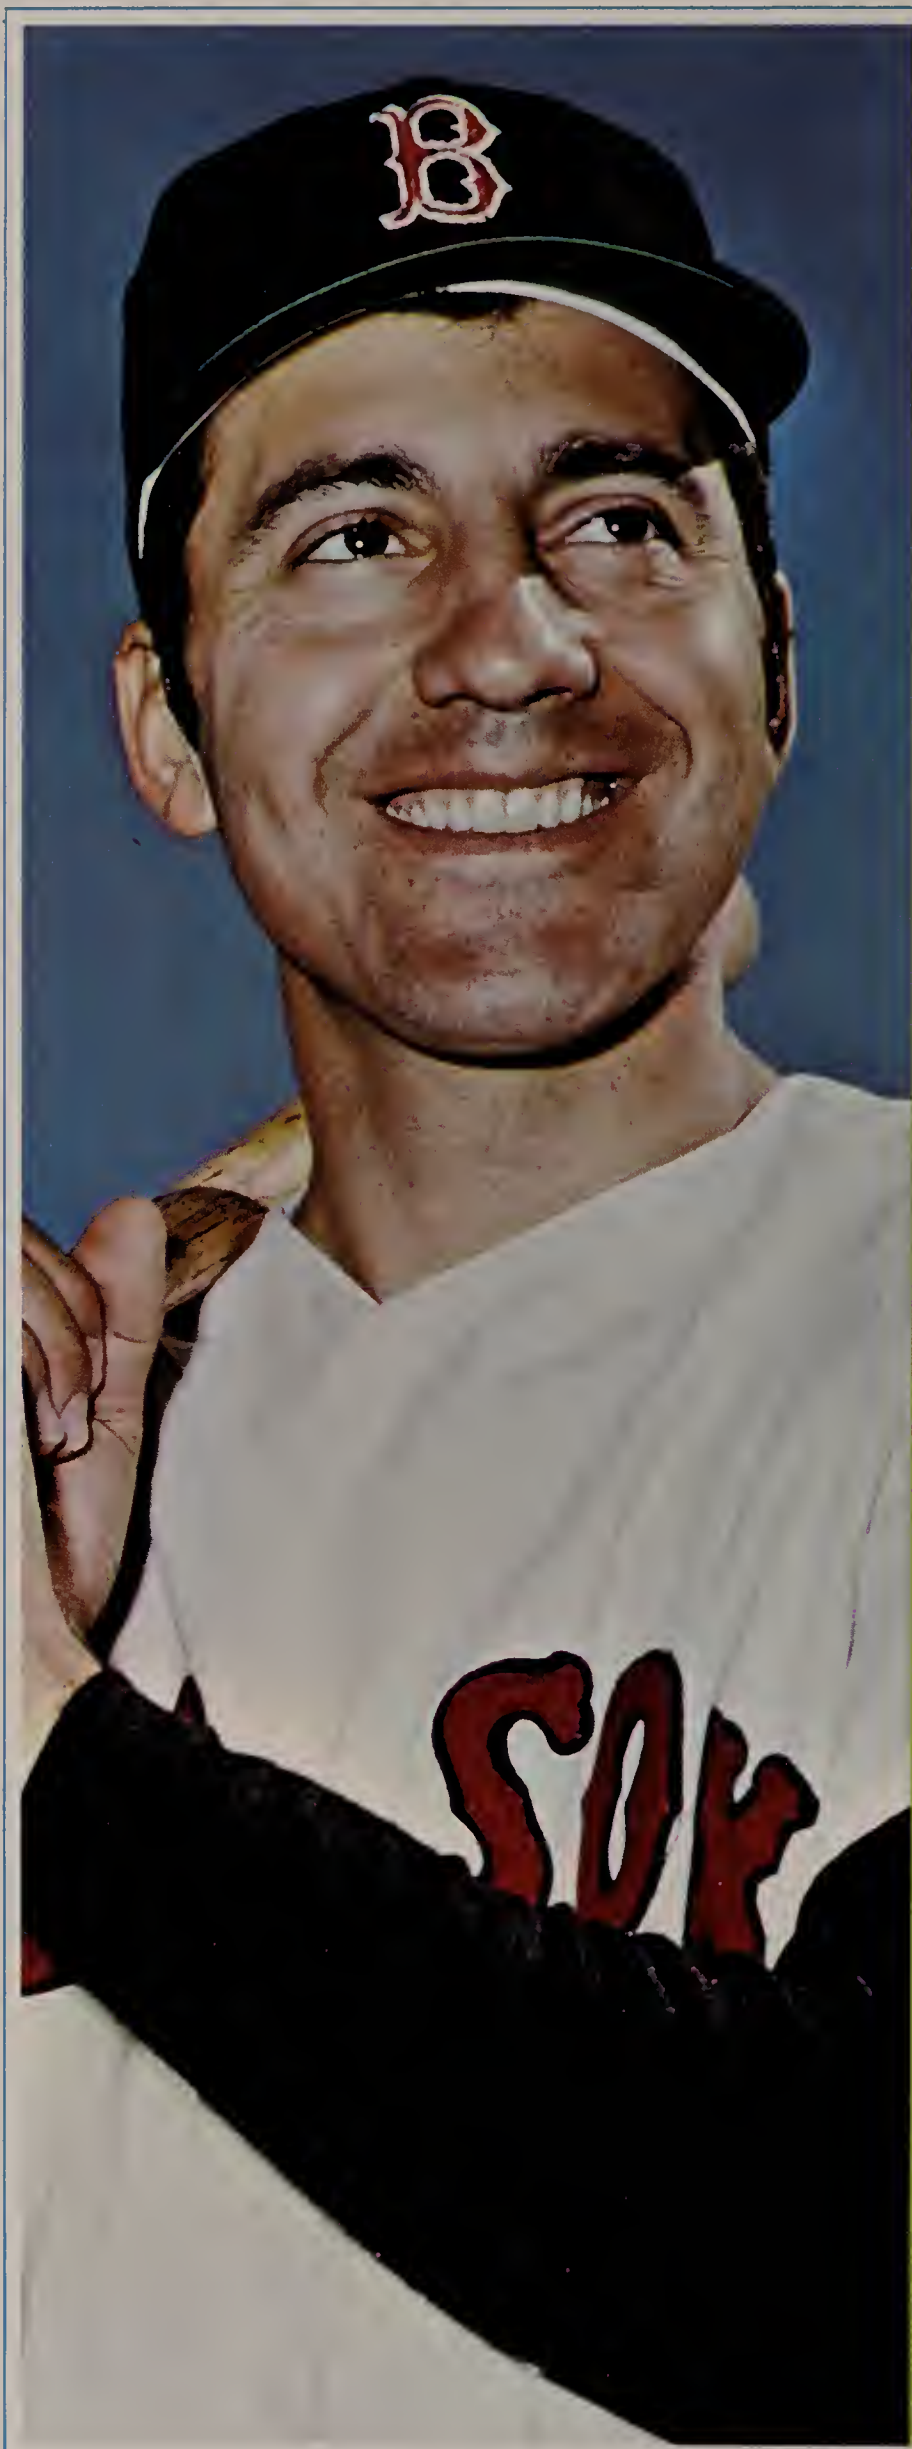

In high school in Charleston, Ill., he had three no-hitters, and later had a 10-1 senior year record at Eastern Illinois. His pitching at Eastern Illinois has earned him a spot in the NAIA College Hall of Fame. Marty has a bachelor's and master's degrees from Eastern Illinois and later did graduate work at Arizona State.

Americo P. (Rico) THIRD BASEMAN

Born: June 27, 1943, Brooklyn, N. Y. Ht.: 6'; Wt. 190 lbs. Brown eyes, Brown hair. Bats and Throws: Right. Home: Lynnfield, Mass. Signed by Scout "Bots" Nekola, July 2, 1961. Married Elsie Jensen. Children: Michael 2/7/66, Jimmy and Billy 6/7/67, Danny 8/5/69.

Even though Rico's power production was down in 1972, his fielding contributions in the late weeks of season helped to keep the Red Sox in contention. He made plays, a la Brooks Robinson, in several clutch situations, to show he has completely adapted to third base.

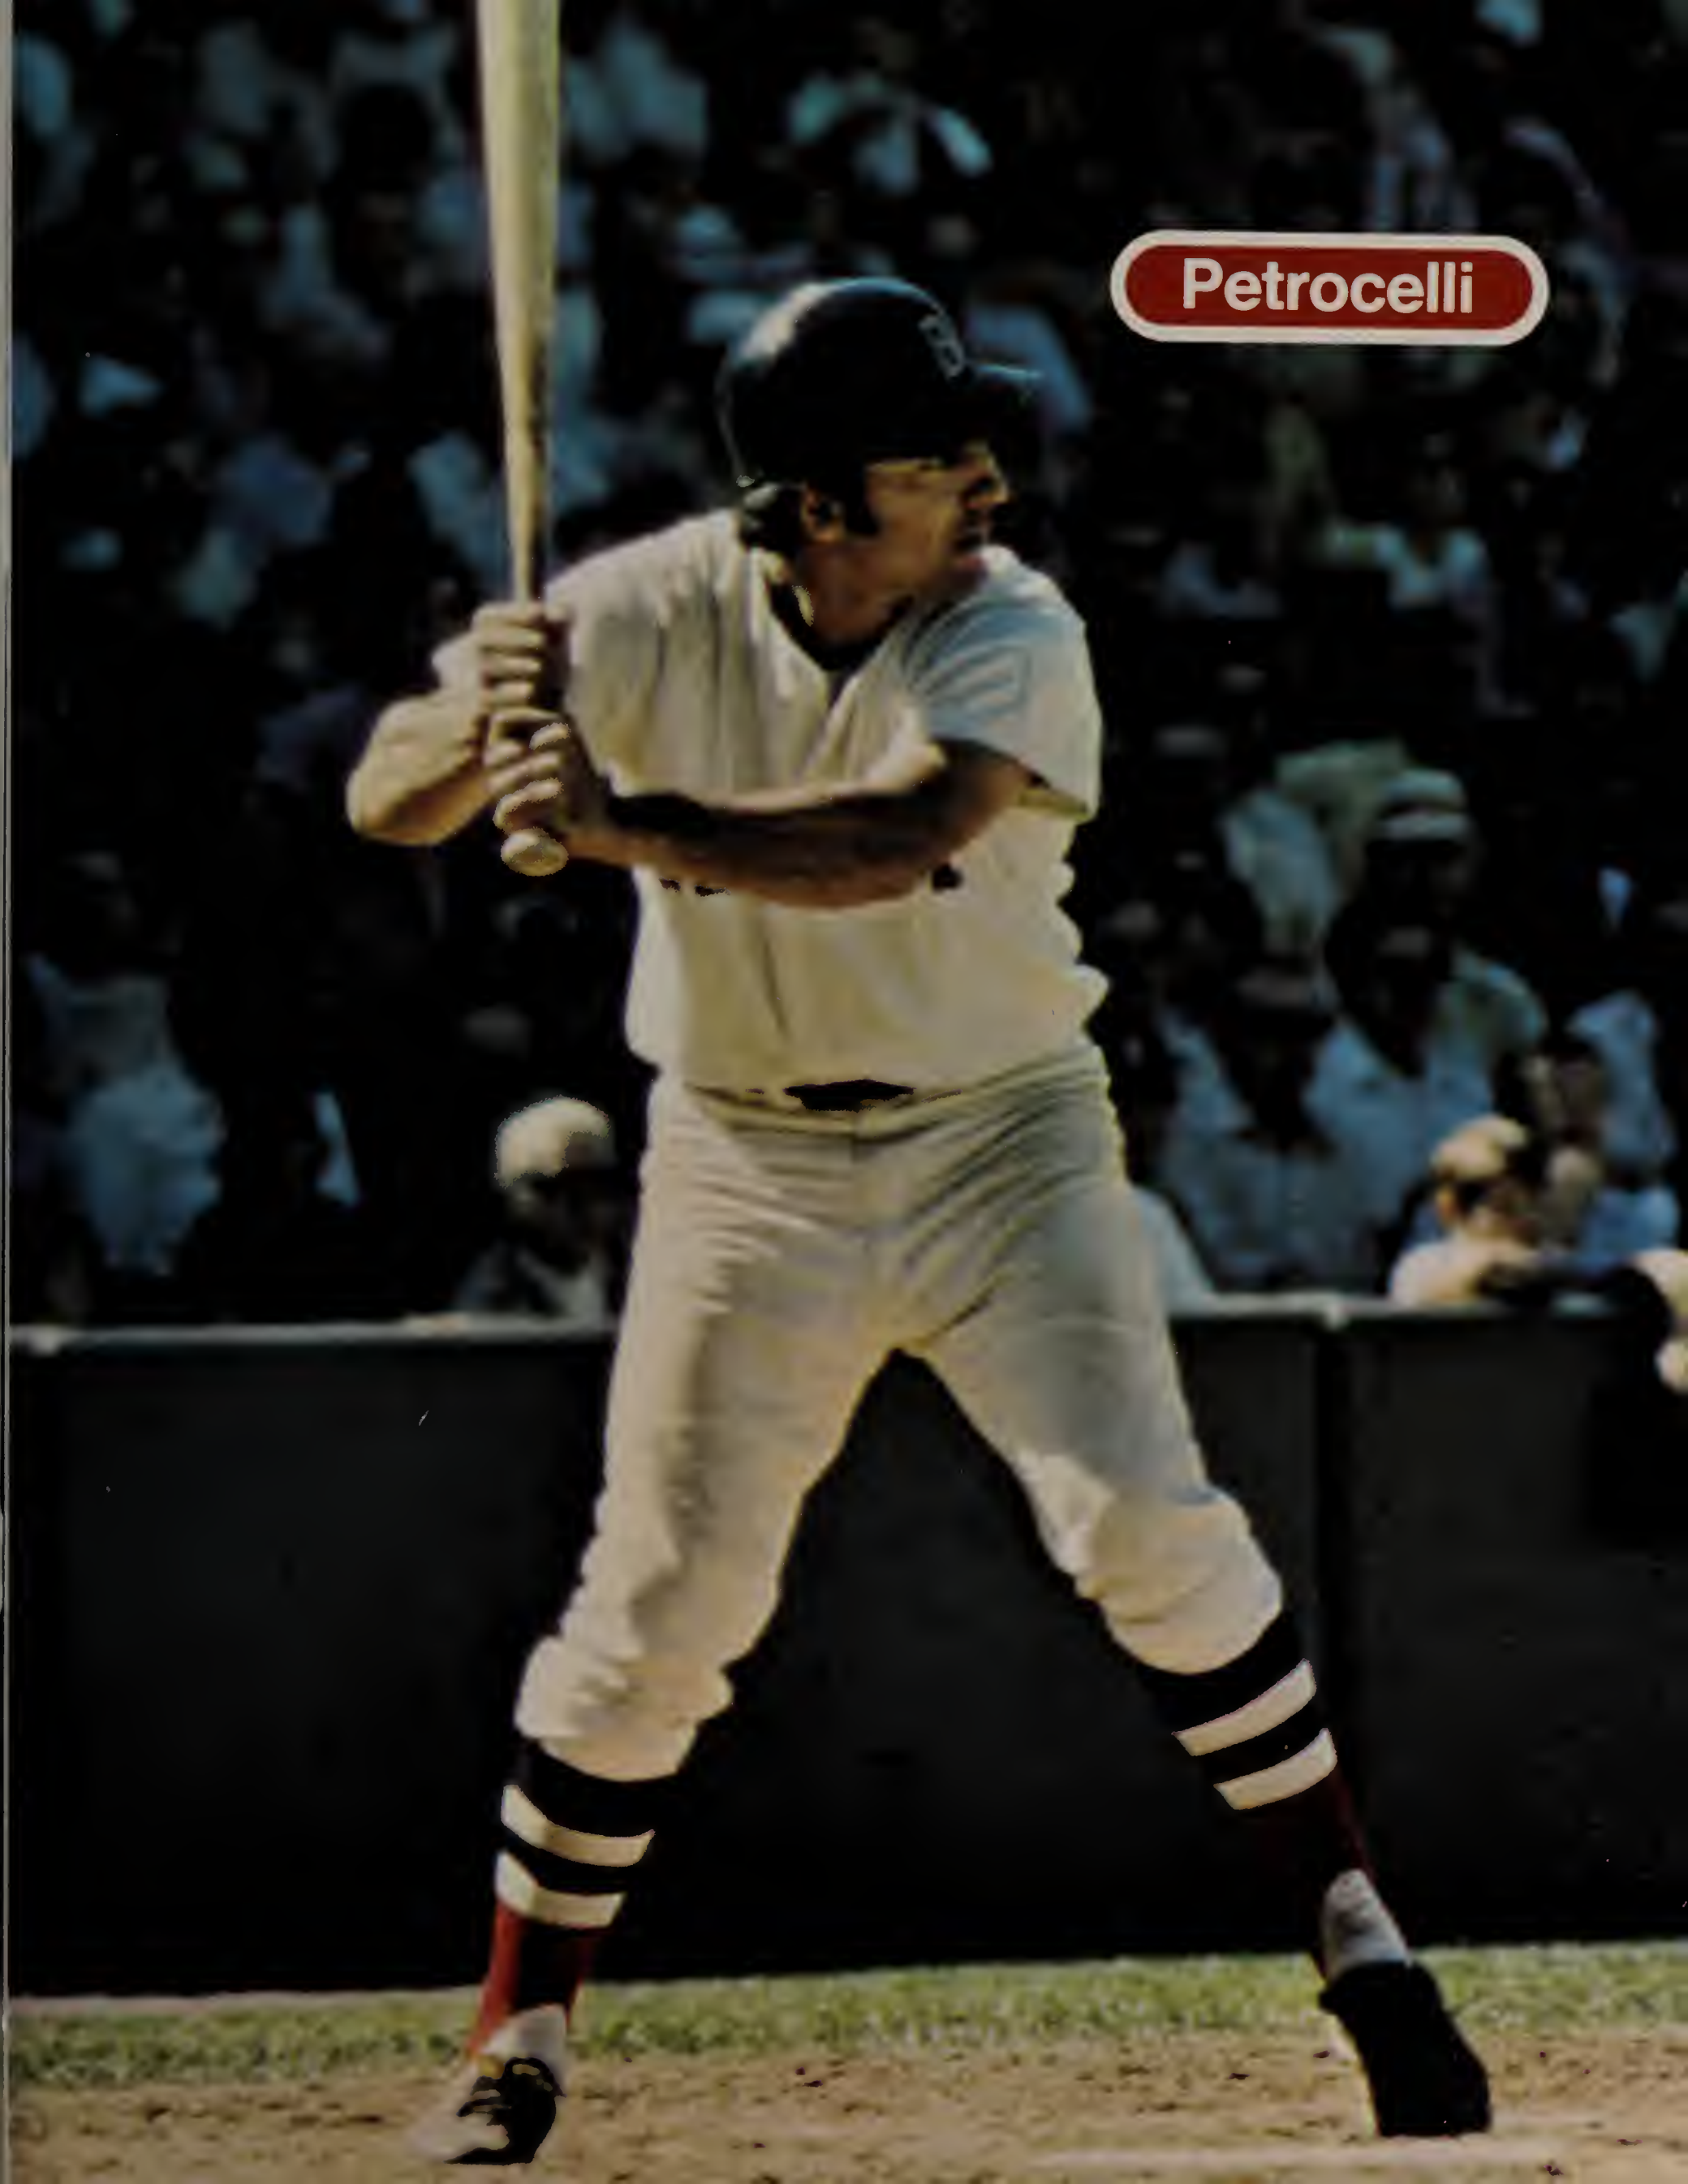

He did lead the club in RBI's with 75, but did his best hitting only in the months of June (.299 with 22 RBI's) and August (.344 with 23 RBI's), and fell below his previous three years when he was among the leading sluggers in the league. His 40 homeruns in 1969 broke a 20 year old league record for a shortstop.

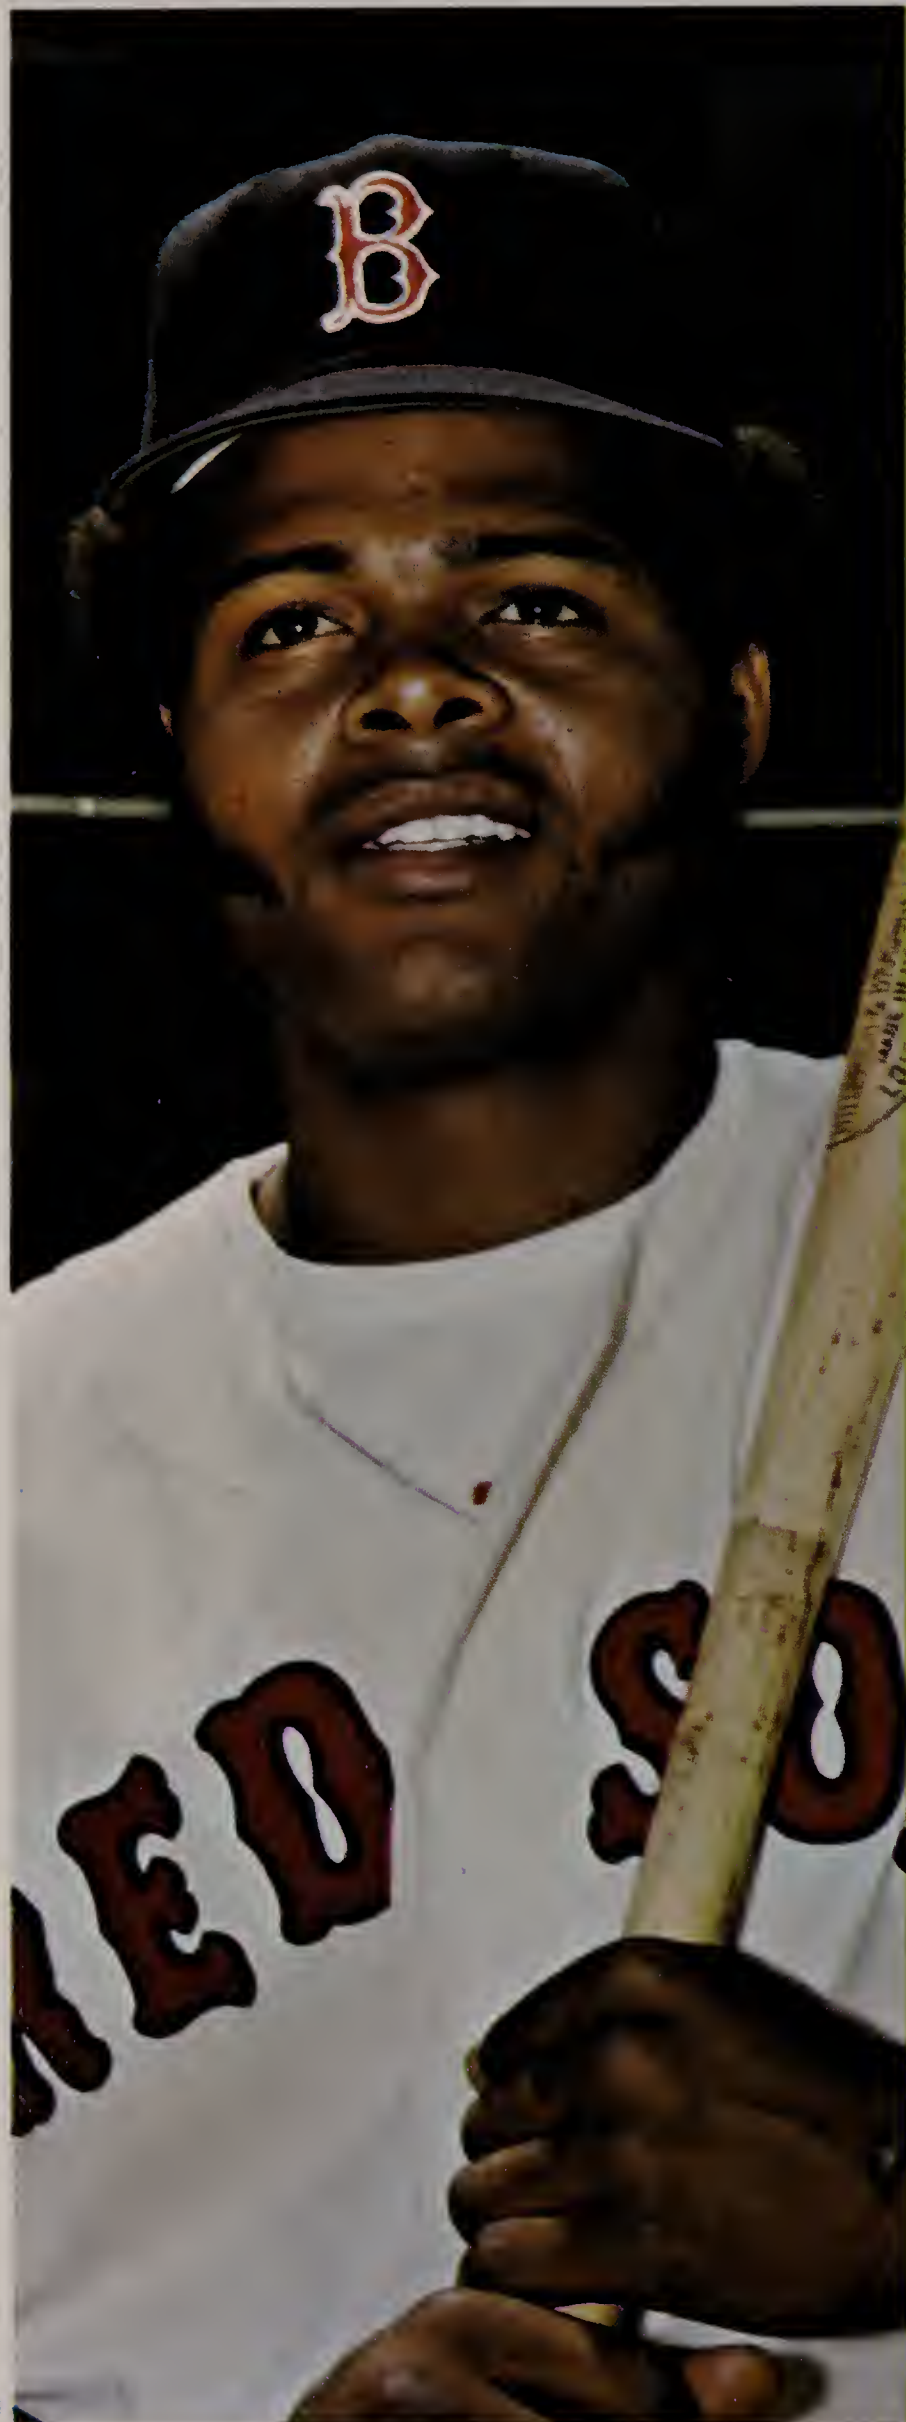

Rico was an All Scholastic in both basketball and baseball at Sheepshead Bay (N.Y.) High before signing and now is an oil company executive in the off season.

Carl Reginald (Reggie) OUTFIELDER

Born: April 2, 1945, Sheveport, La. Ht.: 6'; Wt.: 195 lbs. Brown eyes, Black hair. Bats: Switch; Throws: Right. Home: Sharon, Mass. Married Ernestine Alexander. Children: Reggie Jr. 4/8/68, Nicole LaShann 2/4/72.

Reggie has been either first or second in the Red Sox batting ratings for the past four years, finishing second to Fisk in 1972, and he did most of his strongest hitting in the final two months of the season. In clutch situations, he led the club with 7 homeruns and 21 RBI's from the seventh inning on, and continues to establish himself as one of the bright stars of the American League. It's possible he will move back to centerfield in 1973, with Evans moving to right and Harper to left, depending on the club's first base situation.

He played Little League baseball in California with Don Wilson and Dave Nelson, before going on to become a three sports star at Centennial High. He was the International League batting champion in 1966 before coming to the Red Sox to stay in the pennant winning year of 1967. He was cited by President Nixon for his work in drug education last year, a continuing interest with him, and he develops prize quarter-horses as a hobby.

Smith

Wilfred Charles (Sonny)

PITCHER

Born: January 14, 1937, St. Mary's, Mo. Ht.: 6'3"; Wt.: 210 lbs. Blue eyes, Brown hair. Bats and Throws: Right. Home: St. Louis, Mo. Married Carol Ann Buckner. Children: Sandi 8/3/59, Scott 10/20/60, Steve 3/14/69, Sherri 8/2/71.

Sonny was a major disappointment in 1972, especially in the final two months, when he was 3-6, with only one complete game, at a time when the Red Sox were driving for the division title. His troubles traced to an injured ankle he received climbing rocks at the seashore which apparently hurt his rhythm and caused him to be ineffective. As Boston's Most Valuable Pitcher of 1971, he had been expected to be even better in 1972, especially against the Orioles. In 1971, he was 4-0 vs Baltimore, but only 1-1 in 1972.

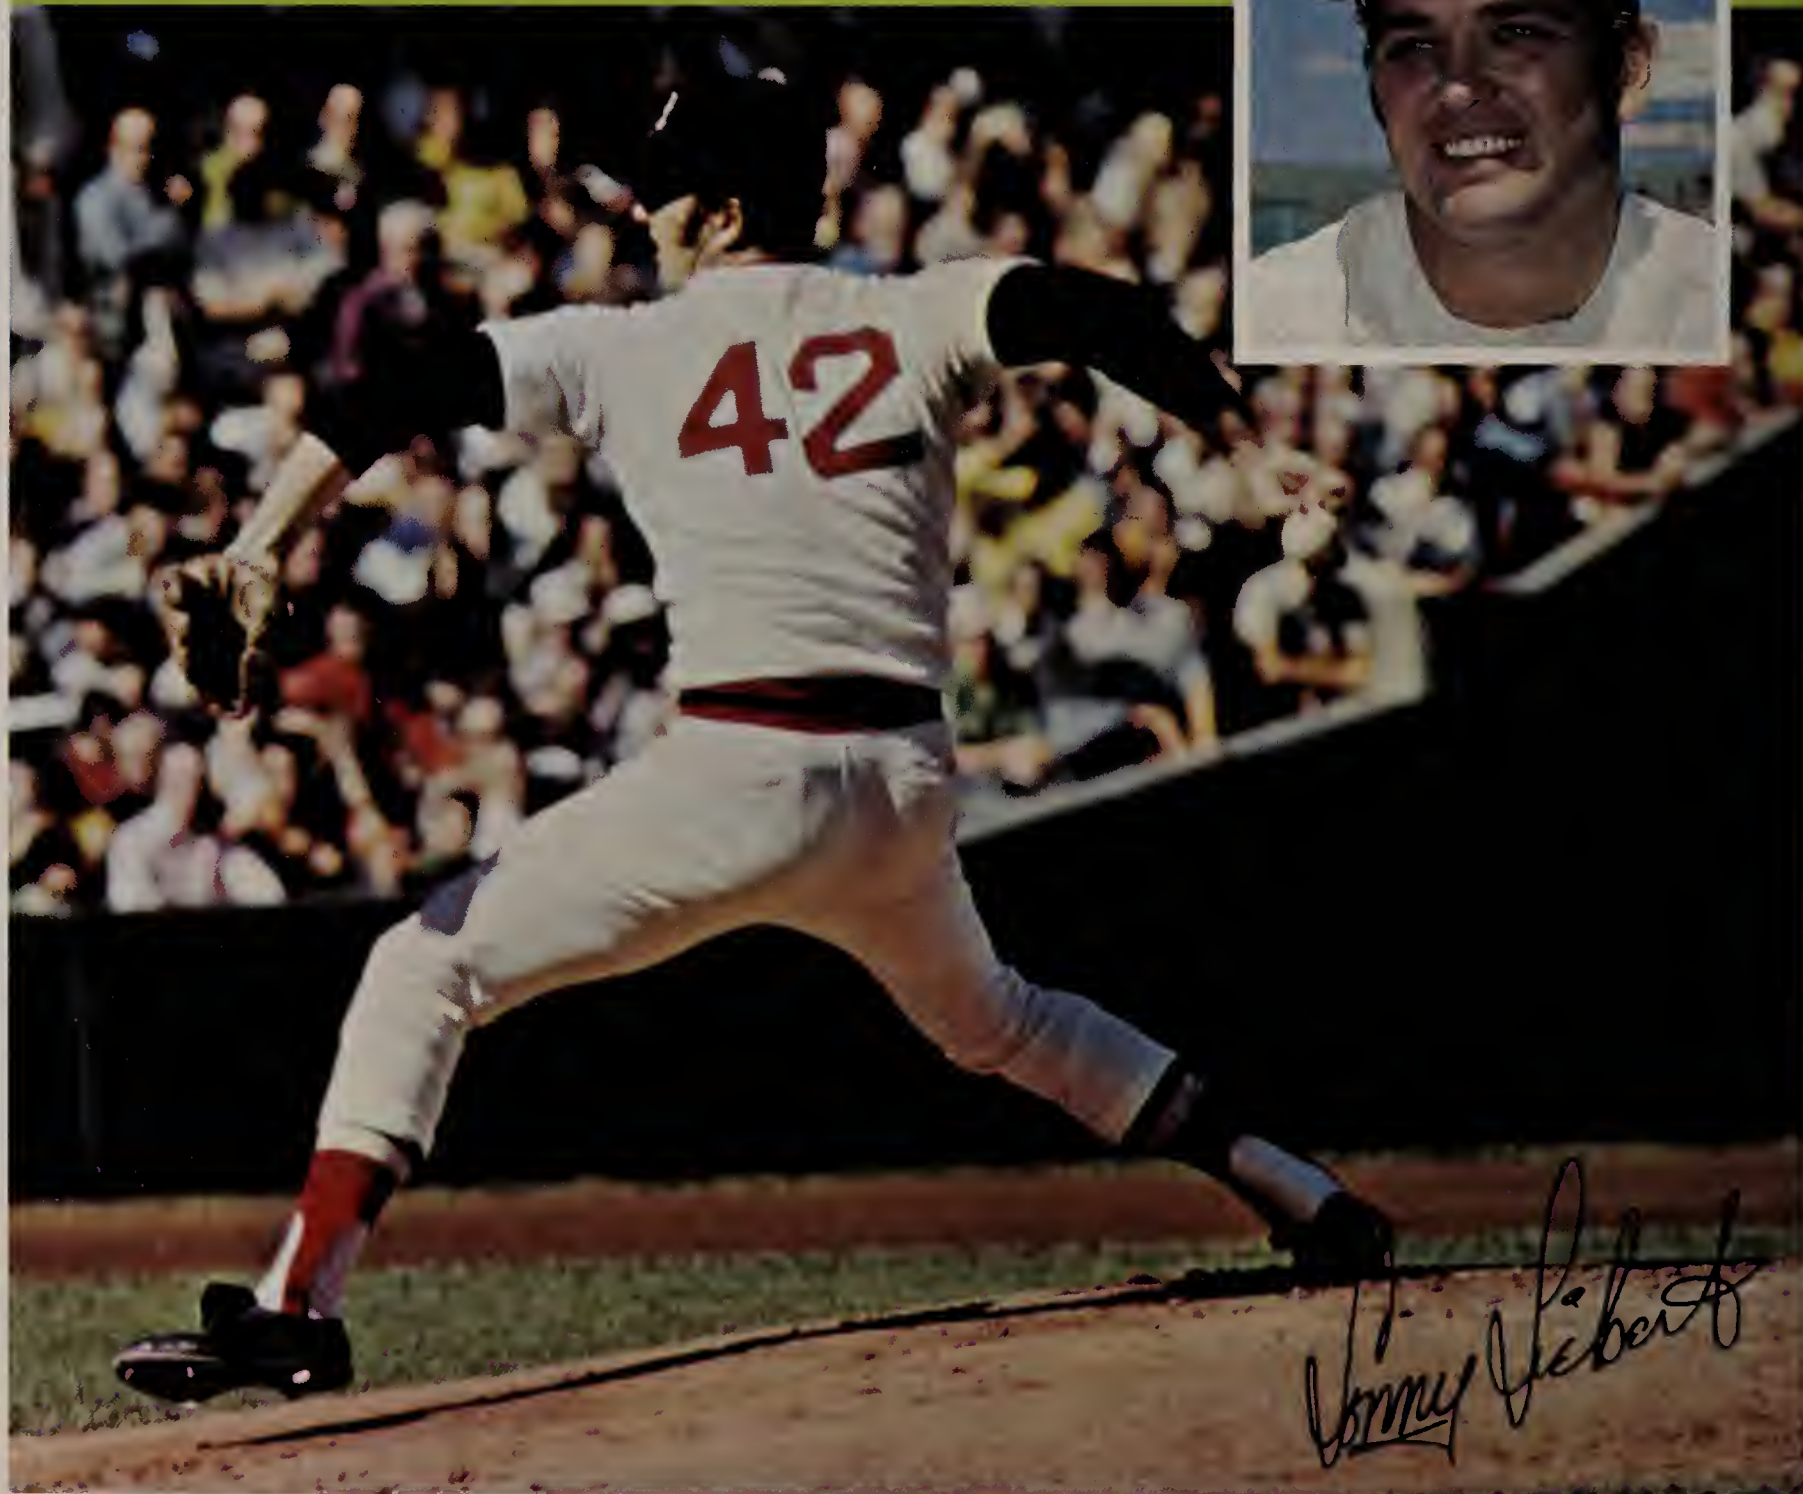

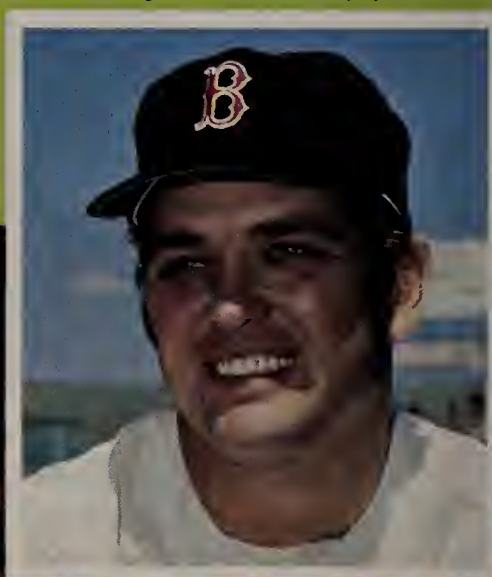

He has a no hitter to his credit, 2-0 over Washington, on June 10, 1966, for Cleveland, who signed him originally as a first baseman-outfielder out of the University of Missouri in 1958. He became a full time pitcher in 1960, and in his 10th major league season of 1973 the Red Sox will be expecting him to return to his winning ways.

Kenneth Ray (Ken)

PITCHER

Born: April 25, 1944, Alexandria, La. Ht.: 6'2"; Wt.: 200 lbs. Blue eyes, Blond hair. Bats and Throws: Right. Home: Foxboro, Mass. Married Rebecca Ann Wrenn. Children: Kenneth Jr. 11/25/67, Kevin 6/1/70.

A series of misfortunes have plagued Ken in his two years with the Red Sox, so he hasn't yet lived up to expectations in the Red Sox bullpen. In 1971, he was sidelined for a considerable period after suffering a fractured cheek bone, and in 1972, he missed six weeks from early June to late July because of a painful sciatic nerve condition in his legs. A healthy season could get him back to his 1969 Angel performance of 22 saves and seven wins.

A good hitter, he played a lot of outfield before being drafted high by California in 1966 from Mississippi State. Del Unser was a college teammate.

Robert Andrew (Bob)

PITCHER

Born: October 28, 1935, Birmingham, Ala. Ht.: 6'6"; Wt.: 225 lbs. Brown eyes, Black hair. Bats: Switch; Throws: Left. Home: Birmingham, Ala. Single.

After a long and successful career with the Pittsburgh Pirates, Big Bob spent most of last season in the International League with Charleston, and when the Red Sox needed lefthanded short relief help in September, he was available and did an outstanding job with two wins and two saves in crucial games. So, despite his age, he must be given a strong chance to make the bullpen crew in 1973 in Boston.

Bob attended Holy Family High in Ensley, Alabama and St. Benedict's College in Kansas before signing with Pittsburgh.

Luis Clemente (Luis)

PITCHER

Born: November 23, 1940, Havana, Cuba. Ht.: 5'11"; Wt.: 190 lbs. Brown eyes, Black hair. Bats and Throws: Right. Home: Colonia Viaducto, Mexico. Married Maria Del Refugio Navarro. Children: Luis 9/5/62, Isabel 10/14/67.

Certainly, Luis was the prime reason for the exciting Red Sox run at the pennant in 1972, as he easily earned the "Comeback of the Year" award in the league, and became the first Red Sox pitcher to have an ERA under 2.00 since Carl Mays did it in 1917, and first Red Sox ERA league leader since Mel Parnell in 1949.

From August 1, 1972 on he was the best pitcher in the league, with an 11-2 record, one save and a 1.19 ERA, all 11 wins being complete games. He was especially effective at Fenway Park during the year, with a 10-1 record, 2 saves and 1.57 ERA. His 15-6 mark for the season is more impressive when it is noted he didn't get his first win until June 21 in relief, and had only 3 starts until July 3.

All this happened in a year after he had been released by Minnesota, pitched on a 30 day trial with the Braves farm club at Richmond, then with the Red Sox farm club in Louisville and finally finishing the season of 1971 in Boston. The signal for his comeback might have been a no-hitter he pitched in winter ball in Venezuela before spring training last year. He was again effective in Venezuela this past winter after arriving late.

Luis, with his complex pitching motion and his Fu Manchu moustache, became a great Boston favorite in 1972, and few will forget when over 28,000 Fenway Park fans gave him a pitch by pitch ninth inning standing ovation on September 20 when he shut out Baltimore, 4-0. It was quite a season for Luis Tiant in 1972 and the Red Sox hope for an encore in 1973.

Luis Tiant

Tiant

Carl Michael (Yaz)

OUTFIELDER- FIRST BASEMAN

Born: Aug. 22, 1939, Southampton, L. I., N. Y. Ht.: 5'11"; Wt. 188 lbs. Brown eyes, Brown hair. Bats: Left; Throws: Right. Home: Lynnfield, Mass. Signed by Scout Bots Nekola, Nov. 28, 1958. Married Carolann Casper. Children: Mary Ann 9/21/60, C. Michael Jr. 8/16/61, Suzann 6/15/66, Carolyn 4/15/69.

It was an in-and-out season for Yaz in 1972. He was off to a poor start, when he injured his knee on May 9th and missed 26 games. On his return he went on a hitting spree through July, slumped again in August, but he had a September, reminiscent of 1967, and hit .306, with 8 homeruns and 24 RBI's. It's significant that the Red Sox really got going when Yaz moved in to take over the first base job, and there is a strong possibility he'll be back there in 1973, depending on Cooper's or Evans' readiness.

His credentials in 12 major league seasons label him a true superstar of the American League . . . three time batting champion, six time Gold Glove winner as an outfielder, six time an American League All Star, and MVP and triple crown winner in 1967, when he led the Red Sox to the "Impossible Dream" pennant. At 33, he feels he has four or five more productive years left.

An infielder in high school, he signed with Boston after his freshman year at Notre Dame and later obtained his degree from Merrimac College. He was cited last year, along with Reggie Smith, by President Nixon for his work in drug education, and has always been active in the affairs of the Jimmy Fund, the popular name of the Children's Cancer Research Foundation of Boston.

THE DESIGNATED HITTER

Cepeda

Orlando Manuel

FIRST BASEMAN

Born: September 17, 1937, Ponce, Puerto Rico. Ht.: 6'2"; Wt.: 215 lbs. Brown eyes, Black hair. Bats and Throws: Right. Home: Guaynabo, P.R. Signed as free agent, January 18, 1973. Married Ana Hilda Pino Valasquez. Children: Orlando Xavier, 3/28/66.

One of the National League's top hitters for many years, he joined the exclusive 2,000 hit club on July 11, 1970. With the Red Sox he'll definitely see action as a designated hitter frequently, and if his knees are sound, he'll see every-day action. Few hitters can show his credentials.

In 12 of the 15 N.L. years in which he was completely healthy he hit over .300 nine times, five times he had over 100 RBI's, five times over 30 home-runs and six times over 30 doubles. He is one of three National Leaguers who was a unanimous selection as Rookie of the Year — Orlando in 1958, Frank Robinson in 1956 and Willie McCovey in 1959. In 1967, when he led the Cardinals to the world's championship over the Red Sox, he became the first unanimous choice as National League MVP.

His father, Perucho Cepeda, was a legendary player known as "The Bull" in Puerto Rico and played till he was 45 years old. Orlando signed as a 17-year-old with the Giants in March, 1955 and his father died a month later.

RED SOX FARM SYSTEM

This is the real heart blood of a professional baseball operation . . . the farm system . . . starting with the scouts listed here who spend each year watching young baseball talent all across the country and in the Caribbean, Central and South America, and in Canada, looking for future major leaguers, and continuing with the various minor league clubs listed and their managers, who develop and polish the raw talent that the scout finds to hopefully bring the young players eventually to Fenway Park and major league stardom.

Scouting has always been one of the most difficult jobs in baseball, made more difficult since 1965 because of the introduction of the free agent draft. Years ago, a scout who found a prospect could use all his powers of persuasion to convince the young player that his future should be with the Boston Red Sox. Today, a scout can find a great prospect but then can only hope that the young man is still available when the Red Sox' selection turn comes up in the draft.

It has been estimated that about one player out of each 10 signed makes his way to the major leagues to stay for a period of time, and that it costs variously from $250,000 to $350,000 to develop the one player who makes it. Included in that cost are salaries, bonuses, administrative expenses, the operation of the five minor league clubs, spring training expenses, travel, etc.

The fact that the Red Sox have been successful is indicated in this statistic — 17 of the players on the Red Sox 40 man roster were draft selections, and several other players on the Red Sox roster came in trades for other players who had been drafted by the Red Sox.

Contrast that with professional football and basketball, who draft players already well publicized nation-wide and developed by the colleges of the country.

So, as the saying goes in professional baseball, "This is where it's at" . . . the farm system. Young players, who have been watched by Red Sox scouts and fortunate enough to be drafted and then sign with the club will get special and individual coaching from the first day they put on a professional uniform. At the end of each season, their talents will be carefully evaluated as they move toward Fenway Park. The progress of some is faster than others, but each youngster knows that if he has major league ability, he will get the chance to some day show those abilities in Fenway Park, the most exciting baseball park in the country and before the most loyal fans.

Steven Charles (Steve)

PITCHER

Born: September 8, 1951, St. Louis, Mo. Ht.: 6'4"; Wt.: 200 lbs. Blue eyes, Brown hair. Bats and Throws: Left. Home: Torrance, Calif. Signed by scout Joe Stephenson, June 22, 1969. Single.

All he needs is more experience, but it has been a slow progression for him the past few years, with arm problems slowing him down in 1970 and military service commitments interrupting his last two seasons. Steve has been impressive in two seasons in a row in the Florida Winter Instructional League with a combined 10-5 record. He ran into an outfield wall in his first major league spring camp in 1972 and saw very limited game action. He has a good moving fast ball and a better than average curve. He was baseball MVP at Carson High before signing.

CATCHER

Born: February 5, 1947, Washington, D.C. Ht.: 5'10"; Wt.: 180 lbs. Blue eyes, Brown hair. Bats and Throws: Right. Home: Statesboro, Ga. Married Cheryl Woods Culpepper. Children: Victor III 8/9/70.

A good season at Louisville has finally earned Vic a promotion to a major league roster, after being drafted twice before in minor league baseball. Originally the property of Cleveland, in 1970 he was drafted by the White Sox and then the Red Sox drafted him in 1971.

He is a fine athlete with a strong arm, who starred in football and basketball at Florence High and Georgia Southern before signing with the Indians. He trains bird dogs in the off season and will be competing for the backup catching job at Fenway Park.

SHORTSTOP

Born: April 29, 1951, Lynwood, Calif. Ht.: 5'10"; Wt.: 165 lbs. Green eyes, Brown hair. Bats and Throws: Right. Home: South Gate, Calif. Signed by Scout Joe Stephenson, Feb. 2, 1970. Single.

All scout reports indicate that Rick's fielding is of major league caliber already. He hit above .300 for the first two months of 1972 with Pawtucket and came back late in the year after a mid-season slump. A consistent season in triple A in 1973 as a hitter should make him ready for future major league action.

He starred at all levels of youth baseball in California before signing, with the high point coming in 1969, when he was the shortstop on the world championship Connie Mack team. He also played football and basketball in high school.

INFIELDER

Born: Sept. 28, 1949, Santo Domingo, D. R. Ht.: 5'10"; Wt.: 155 lbs. Brown eyes, Black hair. Bats and Throws: Right. Home: Santo Domingo. Married Teresa de Jesus. Children: Mario Miguel Jr.

He was "the player to be named later" in the Cater-Lyle deal, and moved to Louisville from Syracuse on June 30th, where he demonstrated that he is a steady player, with good hands, a good and accurate arm and a line drive spray hitter, with limited power. He will be given every chance to back up Louis Aparicio.

Mike attended LaSalle College in the Dominican Republic before signing with the Yankees and was on the Yankee roster last spring.

INFIELDER

Born: August 9, 1947, Omaha, Neb. Ht.: 5'10"; Wt. 178 lbs. Brown eyes, Brown hair. Bats and Throws: Right. Home: Omaha, Neb. Signed by Howard Doyle, June 10, 1969. Married Lorraine Kay Roberts. Children: Douglas 5/13/71.

He will be trying to bounce back from a disappointing season at Louisville. With the ability he showed in previous minor league seasons and the impression he made in a short stay with the Red Sox in 1971, plus winter baseball experience under Luis Aparicio in Venezuela this year, he is still rated as a future prospect.

He was the Eastern League All Star second baseman in 1970. Buddy originally signed out of Pershing College and later obtained his degree at the University of Nebraska.

PITCHER

Born: October 13, 1950, Trout Creek, Mich. Ht.: 6'3"; Wt.: 210 lbs. Hazel eyes, Red hair. Bats and Throws: Right. Home: Trout Creek, Mich. Signed by Scout Maurice DeLoof, August 3, 1968. Single.

Dick pitched this winter for Luis Aparicio in Venezuela after an inconsistent season at Louisville as both a starter and reliever. He has a strong arm and a good sinking fast ball when he's right but must gain consistency with his pitches to eventually get to Fenway Park.

He was an All State selection in basketball at Trout Creek High before signing.

Still gradually improving and progressing toward major league status, but will need at least one more minor league season, probably in triple A in 1973. Big and strong, he was a great high school basketball player at John Glenn High and turned down a basketball scholarship at USC to try baseball.

PITCHER

Born: September 1, 1947, Dobbs Ferry, N.Y. Ht.: 6'; Wt.: 190 lbs. Brown eyes, Brown hair. Bats: Switch; Throws: Left. Home: Taylors, S. C. Signed by Scout Tony Ravish, August 19, 1969. Married Sandra Darlene Cummings. Children: Cindy 7.

Craig, a graduate of Florida State, has changed his rating from AA top future to major league prospect. Although he doesn't have a great fast ball, with an excellent curve and fine control, all he does is win. He led the International League with his 15 wins last year.

He was not drafted on graduation from Florida State in 1969, but was signed after being named MVP of the Twilight League in Schenectady, N.Y. that year, and became Most Valuable Pitcher in the Western Carolina League the following season. Earlier, he had been a winner at Fort Lauderdale High and Broward County Junior College. Might be a surprise for the Red Sox in 1973.

THE BOSTON PRESS...

Boston has always had a great baseball heritage, and Red Sox fans are recognized the country over as the most knowledgeable in the land, and a great deal of credit for that knowledge must go to the men of the sometimes maligned "Boston Press."

The active members of the Boston Chapter of the Baseball Writers of America are successors to a long line of distinguished baseball writers who set a standard which has been closely followed through the years. It's true that writing styles have changed over the years but the commitment to accuracy, to "tell it like it is" is carried on.

The very number of writers who cover the Red Sox in spring training, through the season on a daily basis and throughout the year makes for a highly competitive atmosphere not always understood by the players in the midst of their own highly competitive seasons, so there are bound to be differences of opinion each year.

Players traded from other clubs to the Red Sox, accustomed to being interviewed by only one or two writers in their former locations, are many times startled by the horde of writers moving into the Red Sox clubhouse after a game.

With this volume of daily coverage, no true baseball fan in New England can be indifferent about the fortunes of the Red Sox and the activities at Fenway Park because he is furnished a continual supply of information about the club. Red Sox press coverage, therefore, is the envy of other major league organizations because the press box at Fenway Park is filled daily and nightly for all home games, and the number of media representatives covering the Red Sox in the spring and on the road during the season is usually the largest in both leagues.

And the result is that New England's informed fans have made Fenway one of the busiest parks in the nation, averaging a million, seven hundred thousand paid attendance for the past six years, in the smallest park in the country.

Ken Coleman

After seven seasons of leading the Red Sox broadcasting crew on both radio and television, with the shift in originating channels for Red Sox telecasts in 1972, Ken and Johnny Pesky became the TV voices for the club.

A native of Quincy, Mass., Ken had returned to Boston in 1966 to replace Curt Gowdy after spending the previous 14 years with the Cleveland Browns and 10 with the Cleveland Indians. He broke into the broadcasting field in Rutland, Vermont after attending Curry College, and after experience in Quincy and Worcester, Mass., including the play by play of Boston University football, he moved up to the Cleveland Browns radio network in the early 1950's.

Last Fall and Winter, he was one of the staff of NBC television announcers doing regional telecasts of NFL games and Eastern Intercollegiate basketball. He and his wife and five children make their home in Cohasset, Mass.

Johnny Pesky

One of the all time favorite Red Sox players, Johnny joined the Red Sox broadcasting crew for the 1969 season after a long and successful career as a player, coach and manager.

He signed originally with the Red Sox and came to Boston in 1942, and finished his active career with Washington in 1954. He coached under Ralph Houk in Denver in 1955, managed in the Detroit farm system from 1956 through 1960, and managed the Red Sox triple A teams in Seattle in 1961 and 1962, before becoming Red Sox manager for the 1963 and 1964 seasons. Later he was a coach for the Pittsburgh Pirates and managed in their farm system before becoming a broadcaster.

A great teacher of baseball fundamentals he still helps Red Sox minor league infielders in the spring, and helps to conduct Red Sox clinics in the summer. Born in Portland, Oregon, he now resides with his wife and son in Swampscott, Mass.

Ned Martin

He originally joined Curt Gowdy and the Red Sox broadcasting crew in 1961 and last year became the club's number one radio play by play announcer. Prior to winning the Red Sox audition for the 1961 season, he had considerable experience in baseball and all sports broadcasting in Charleston, West Virginia.

A native of Philadelphia, Ned has attracted a large New England following for his light touch on the mike not only with the Red Sox, but also on Dartmouth and Harvard football games. He is also the sports director of WHDH in Boston.

He played baseball and was an outstanding swimmer at Duke University before World War II service with the U. S. Marines. He and his wife and three children now live in Wellesley, Mass.

Dave Martin

Dave was a veteran of 18 years of sports broadcasting when he joined Ned on the Red Sox radio network last June.

A native of Cedar Rapids, Iowa and a graduate of Oklahoma University, he had considerable minor league broadcasting experience before coming up to the Chicago White Sox in 1968, and followed that with three years on the Cleveland Indians television network. He is also the radio voice now of the New England Whalers of the World Hockey Association. He lives with his wife and two children in West Peabody, Mass.

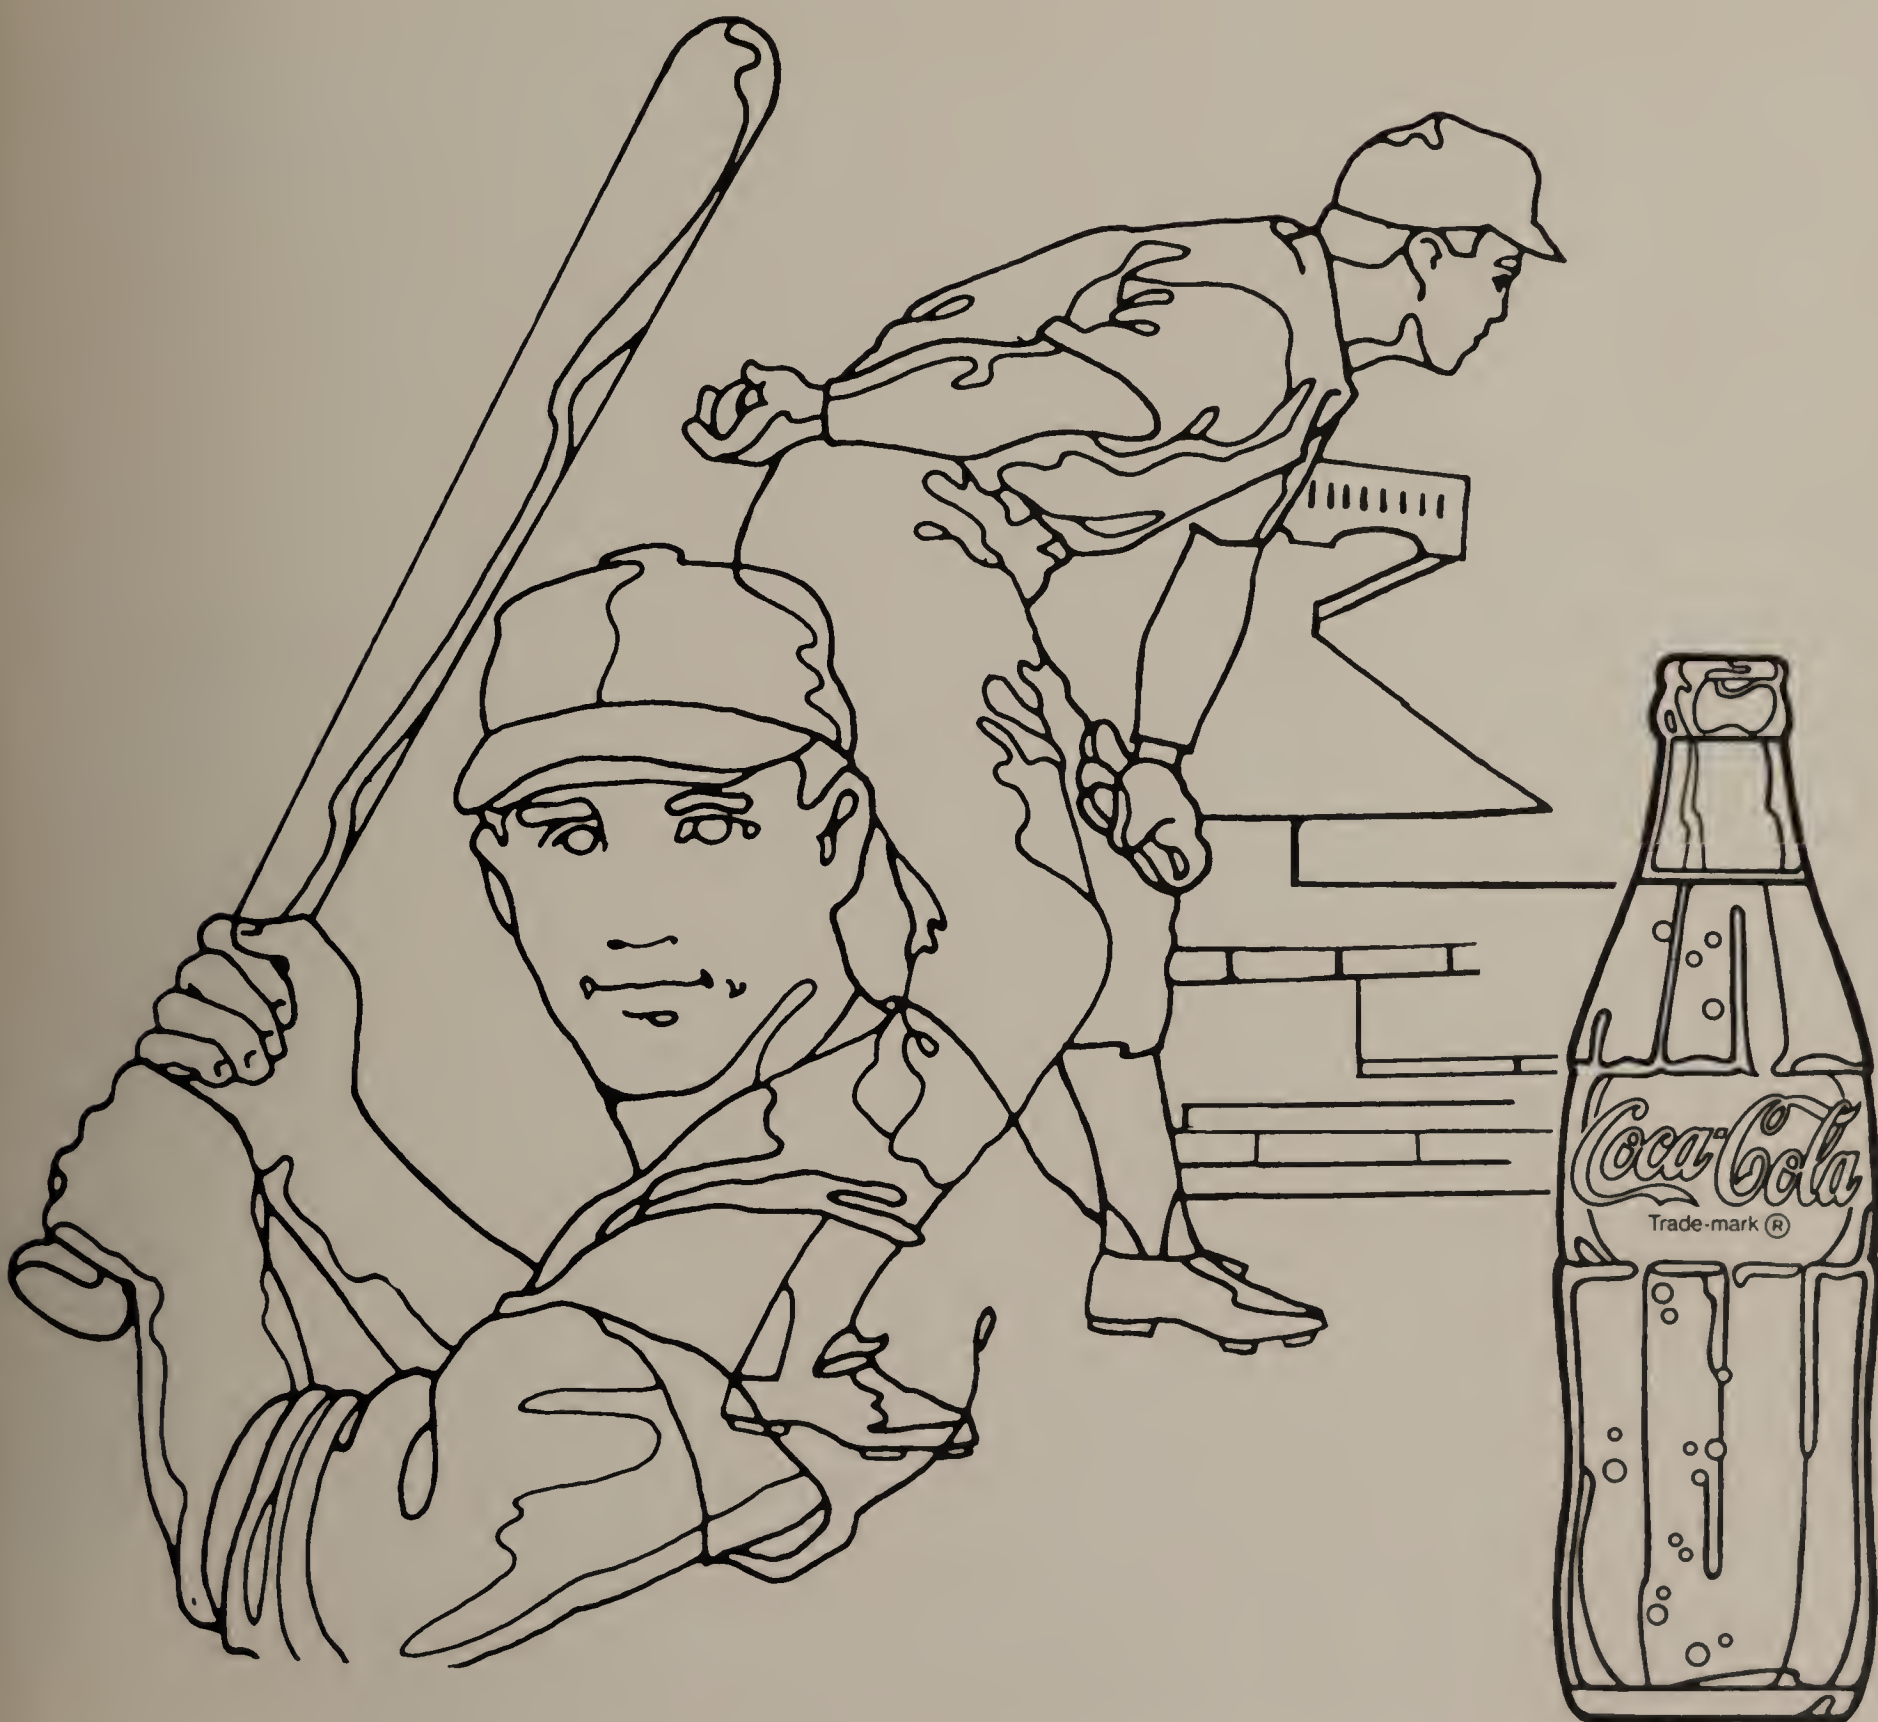

THE VOICES OF THE RED SOX

Al Walker

Al is the real veteran of Red Sox broadcasting in his 21st straight year as engineer. During that stretch only the death of his mother and a union strike has kept him from his post, and he has engineered over 3,000 Red Sox games, home and away. Through the years, he was also number one engineer for many years with the Boston Bruins and Celtics. Sometimes known as the "Cookie Monster," he resides with his wife and daughter in Methuen.

Schaefer

more than one

There's nothing like that first frosty glass of Schaefer beer. Except your second, and your third. They're like having that first cold one all over again.

And remember, Schaefer brings you Boston Red Sox Baseball on radio as a continuing presentation of The Schaefer Circle of Sports.

Schaefer beer is available at all concession stands.
